FICTION

SABIN, EDWIN L.

*Rio Bravo. A Romance of the Texas Frontier. Rio Bravo is the old Mexican name for the Rio Grande River. The narrative concerns a young Lieutenant of Dragoons. The historical background is accurate and vivid with an unusual portrait of Zachary Taylor and Robert E. Lee, who at that time was beginning his career as a soldier. Mr. Sabin has done a splendid piece of characterization in a gambler who sacrifices his life to save the young Lieutenant and the girl whom he loves. The plot is complicated by a beautiful senorita falling in love with the Lieutenant, his subsequent capture by bandits and the climax of the story is tense and unexpected. 12mo. Colored jacket by J. Clinton Shepherd. $2.00

ROCKEY, HOWARD

*Paradox. None but a modern young matron of rare breadth of mind could have solved her marriage problem as did Nancy Maclean. "I am too much a woman," she told her friends, "to close my eyes to truth. I would rather retain my husband's respect and be his trusted companion than stifle his love for me and be laughed at by the world." Against a brilliant background of colorful social life, the story unfolds the struggle of two remarkable women, rising to powerful heights of intensely human emotion. Both of them love a successful man with a passionate devotion—and are loved by him in return—resulting in a climax so amazingly unusual that it seems a paradox. Here is a book that is bound to stir the blasé fiction reader and result in widespread comment wherever it is discussed. 12mo. Colored jacket. $2.00

†Note.—Out of print in regular edition but obtainable from A. L. Burt Co.

DOUGLAS, ALAN

*For the King. This dashing story of the time of King Charles of England is founded on mixed identity. One twin brother being a trusted officer in Cromwell's forces, the other King Charles' right hand man. After the battle of Worcester the Roundhead is mistaken by the King for his wounded brother, and against his will is compelled to help the King to escape. The book is an exceptional study of the characters of the two men, their diverse natures and the fine qualities that makes each one loyal to the cause in which he believes and yet able to understand the other's viewpoint. It is a masterly presentation of human emotions. The story is full of action, and sweet, lovable Mistress Kate has her work cut out in keeping both Roundheads and Cavaliers from fighting about her instead of over the King. 12mo. Colored jacket by Manning de V. Lee. $2.00

PANBOURNE, OLIVER

*The Varanoff Tradition. This stirring modern romance of the former Russian Court moves swiftly through a maze of intrigue in the smartest social circles of London and New York.

The Tradition of the Varanoffs centres about the miniature of a Princess of long ago, whose lovely Titian counterpart is a gay young debutante and the impulsive daughter of an American millionaire.

The theft of the priceless treasure from an exiled Russian Prince results in complications that are woven into a web of mystery and adventure that will hold the reader breathless through each exciting chapter. The glamor of wealth and nobility makes this colorful tale both picturesque and thrilling. 12mo. Colored jacket. $2.00

SCOTT, WILL

*The Black Stamp. For those who love the mystery story * * * here is a real treat. * * * What is lacking in many of our mystery stories is a sense of humor, and real fun is present in right proportion to make Mr. Scott's little story worth while.—The Boston Globe.

* * * "The Black Stamp" is the most baffling mystery story I have read since "BEAU GESTE."—Colorado Springs Telegraph.

Just when it is petulantly exclaimed that originality in the mystery story field has been drained dry, pop comes "The Black Stamp," by Will Scott, which has a setting both in England and America.

Not only does Mr. Scott touch virgin ground in his engrossing story, but he writes with unction and flavor. The book is a waterfall of vivacious metaphor. Mr. Scott would be flint-hearted to let Detective Disher die. He must come back. Miss trains, snub wealthy aunts and uncles, but read "The Black Stamp."
—Philadelphia Inquirer.

12mo. Colored jacket. $2.00

VON ZIEKURSCH, THEODORE

*Where the Waters Turn. Thor Patterson is something new in northern fiction. Here is a different kind of strength, the power and tenacity of Nature herself bred into the fibre of a man. He has nothing, is nothing; but little removed from the feathered and furred things among which he has learned to live. The lonely mountains, the vast, still forests have nurtured and formed him. Something of the arrogance of self-sufficient Nature, the swift passions of the storm are a part of him. The crudeness of unsculptured rock is his. And then inspiration that comes to him through a woman is the carving tool which models a superb man, literally by mental and physical travail, and carries him through a heroic struggle in which his native strength could not avail. It is an epic of the creation of highly developed man from the primitive. 12mo. Jacket in color by Nat Little. $2.00

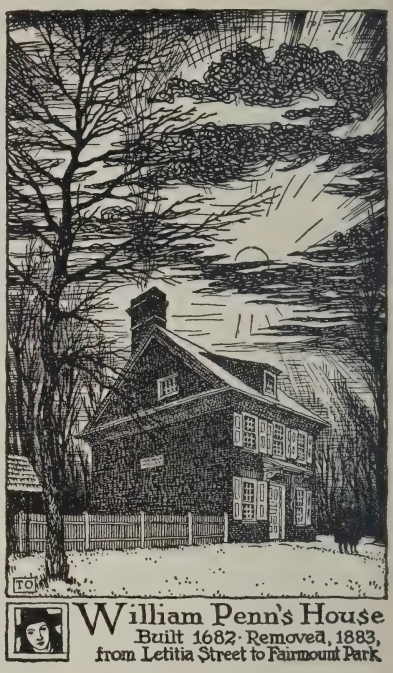
TRAVEL



LIPPINCOTT, HORACE MATHER

*Philadelphia. This book deals with the quaintness and originality, the distinctive flavor of one of the most individual of American cities; its institutions, habits, customs; the characteristics developed from a rich heritage. Thornton Oakley's drawings of famous homes, of national shrines and celebrated buildings are a notable addition to "Americana." Bound in boards, sixteen full page illustrations, decorative end papers and title page. Printed on special paper. Royal octavo. $2.50

WALDO, FULLERTON

*The Saga of a Supercargo. Last summer Mr. Waldo made a voyage to Greenland as supercargo on the Norwegian steamship The Bauta. His account of the voyage is as romantic as any great sea adventure of the past. The life aboard the little ship is depicted with graphic realism by the pen of this trained journalist, who shoveled coal in the stokehold with the firemen, peeled potatoes in the cook's galley, stood watches with the mates, and took down verbatim the sailors' Viking tales of shipwreck and war-time adventure. Many illustrations from photographs by the author. 8vo. $3.00

HEATHCOTE, DUDLEY

*My Wanderings in the Balkans. This is an unusual and interesting type of travel book. It records the author's travels in Bulgaria, Czecho-Slovakia, Hungary, Turkey, Roumania and Serbia. It is an understanding and sympathetic record of all modes of life; farms and cafés, theatres and slums, palaces and workshops. In addition the author has made a thorough study of the architecture and art of these countries and the book will be invaluable to anyone who wishes to understand the influences which have produced creative works so totally unrelated to Western Europe. The many and beautiful photos of the people, the scenery and the great buildings of Central Europe lend further interest to the work. Illustrated with thirty-two photographs. Crown. 8vo. $5.00

WASHBURN, LOUIS C.

Christ Church. The story of Pennsylvania's most historic Church and its influence on the city and Union. It is no ordinary parish church, this quaint old structure, but a permanent American shrine. Profusely illustrated. $4.00

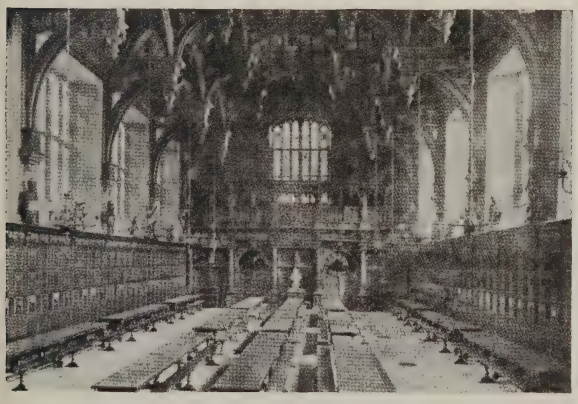
The Heart of the West. The West Country from Bristol to Land's End. By Arthur L. Salmon. With 114 illustrations by Fred Adcock.

By-Ways in Berkshire and the Cotswolds. By P. H. Ditchfield. With many illustrations from old prints.

GORDON, GEORGE BYRON, Director of the Museum, University of Pennsylvania



Rambles in Old London. This book is the result of years of study and research in the older and more historic sections of London. Dr. Gordon has always been a lover of the wonderful City on the Thames and has brought to his explorations of her churches, monuments, taverns, Inns of Court and other picturesque buildings the eye of the poet as well as the knowledge of the historian. He traces the records of various sections of London from pre-Roman times to the present day, and his style is so picturesque and he tells so many good stories that the book has all the flavor of romance. Royal 8vo. Over fifty illustrations. Colored frontispiece and jacket. $4.00

BIOGRAPHY

MOORE, J. HAMPTON

Roosevelt and the Old Guard. Theodore Roosevelt during the most active part of his life. From the time of the Spanish American War, when as the Rough Rider, Roosevelt began to be taken seriously by the nation and the world at large, until the time when he made his characteristic attempt to "come back" in 1912, Hampton Moore was in close touch with affairs. 8vo. Cloth. $4.00

This delightful story tells how Ameliar-Anne Stiggins, the oldest of the six Stiggins' children, went to the party the Squire gave, and took the family green umbrella with her. Ameliar-Anne's little brothers and sisters all had colds and had to stay at home and sit with their feet in a tub of hot water and mustard. Ameliar-Anne wanted to bring the invalids some of the cakes and sweets from the party and she hit on a splendid plan with the aid of the green umbrella. There is a fascinating picture in color to illustrate every paragraph of this quaint and appealing story. Cloth. Thirty full page illustrations in color by Susan Beatrice Pearse. Colored jacket. $1.50

How to sell more goods by improving your Window Displays

5 x 8
Flexible Keratol
428 pages

illustrations

HERE is the first handbook which covers completely and authoritatively the entire subject of window display principles and practice.

From a preliminary discussion of what a window display is and should accomplish, to a step-by-step exposition of how prize-winning displays are planned and executed, this new book deals with every known phase of this important branch of modern merchandising.

Handbook of Window Display

By WILLIAM NELSON TAFT
Editor, Retail Ledger

THE Handbook is literally an encyclopædia of window display ideas, plans and working methods, every one of which has been successfully tried out by well-known retail stores in every part of the country. As a working manual of window display advertising for window dressers, display managers, retail merchants, and students of window dressing, this new book is practically indispensable. It will be found equally valuable to manufacturers who market their goods through retail stores, and to the advertising agency which plans dealer-help material.

Some of the questions answered in this book

——what will windows sell?
——how can "frosted windows" be prevented?
——how should contrasting colors be handled?
——how can windows be used to stimulate curiosity?
——should show windows of different types be lighted?
——should the use of window and price cards be avoided?
——what is an economcial way of making Christmas candles?
——how can motion be effectively added to window displays?
——how can a store-front or window be "trade-marked?"
——what effect does light have upon the sales power of a window?
——should bargains or higher priced goods be featured in windows?
——what are the 12 most important points about a display?
——how much should be spent on windows in proportion to annual sales?
——how should a "window-shoppers' night" be arranged?

$2.00 per volume Published October 1, 1926

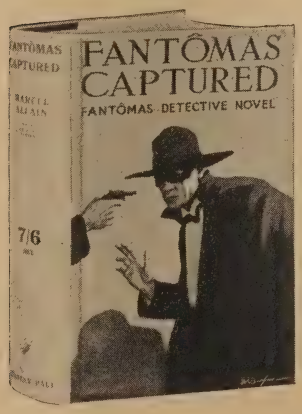
FANTÔMAS CAPTURED

Another "Fantômas" book, even more closely packed with thrilling incidents, sensational adventures and hair-breadth escapes than the rest. The long-drawn battle waged by the great detective Juve and his trusty henchman Fandor the journalist, with the ever-elusive "Lord of Terror," continues through a new series of whirlwind episodes. Juve and Fandor are both captured by means of different stratagems by the Arch-Criminal and condemned to appalling deaths; they escape and finally seize Fantômas in the cellar of the bank he has been scheming to rob. The victory is with Juve and Fandor—a short-lived victory perhaps.



Juve in the Dock

Another Fantômas book—and one of the best of the fascinating series. Disguised as a "Receiver of Stolen Goods," the indefatigable Juve plans to get in touch with the "Lord of Terror" in connection with a mysterious document purporting to reveal the place of concealment of a hidden treasure, and so effect the malefactor's arrest. But once more the Arch-Criminal proves too much for the famous detective and his staunch ally, the journalist, Jerome Fandor. Again and again Fantômas, by some master stroke of audacity, turns the tables and escapes to plot fresh villainies.

The Lord of Terror

Fantômas is alive again! That amazing hero of sensational crimes and cruelties never really died, and here, in this first volume of a new series of the famous "Fantômas" detective stories we have the "Lord of Terror" at work again, as ruthless, as ingenious, and as elusive as ever. Again the arch-criminal is faced by Juve, the police-officer, and the journalist, Jerome Fandor. The plot turns on the theft of diamonds valued at ten million francs, and entrusted by impoverished Russian refugees for sale to the Compte de Vautreuil, the father of the fair Josette, and from cover to cover the book hums with thrilling episodes and baffling mysteries.

BECK, HERBERT M. Chief of Naturalization, Camden County Courts, Camden, N. J. Aliens' Text Book on Citizenship. In preparing this book the aim has been to provide means of thoroughly and quickly acquiring the knowledge necessary to pass the examinations for Naturalization and to assist those who have been deprived of the advantages of our modern Public Schools. As the book is intended for easy reading and not for hard study, unnecessary verbiage has been avoided. During many years' experience in Naturalization work, Mr. Beck has been convinced that the prospective Citizen can be chiefly aided by the proper manner of selecting and arranging questions and answers, thereby enabling him to learn the principles of our Government the more quickly. This little book is published in the hope that it will do just that.

BURROW'S HANDY GUIDE TO EUROPE. Twenty-nine Maps and Plans. This book justifies its title by covering the whole of Europe and not merely a few countries which happen to be the more obvious and popular touring grounds. Every effort has been made not only to make the Guide as comprehensive as possible within the limitations of space imposed by a book which must necessarily be of handy pocket size, but also to ensure that it shall be as accurate and up-to-date as possible. It incorporates the effect of recent changes which throw many older guides hopelessly out of date on matters of importance to tourists. The inclusion of a large number of clear maps, not overloaded with small detail, but showing the places of primary interest to travelers, repairs a serious practical omission of which users of some older publications have been keenly conscious, while the equally clear street plans of London, Paris, Rome and Milan—cities of supreme tourist interest—are worth many pages of verbal directions as to how to find this or that place. 410 pages.....net, $3 50

BULFINCH'S AGE OF FABLE, OR BEAUTIES OF MYTHOLOGY. New Revised Edition by Rev. J. Loughran Scott. LEADING FEATURES, AND OPINIONS CONCERNING THEM.

PRONUNCIATION OF PROPER NAMES.—All proper names are printed in black type, syllabified and accentuated. The editor in his preface says: "To know one you must know his name, especially in Mythology, where names constitute being."

"After years of experience I appreciate the value of the pronunciation of proper names in the body of the text. The time for the study is limited; it is impossible to require incessant use of dictionary. . . . I believe you have done much to secure correct spelling. . . . The illustrations in your edition are a valuable feature.

"The recognition of the mythology of Babylon, Assyria, and Phœnicia I consider timely."—Mary L. Hanna, Teacher of English, Central High School, Cleveland, Ohio.

BULFINCH'S AGE OF CHIVALRY, or KING ARTHUR AND HIS KNIGHTS. New Revised Edition by Rev. J. Loughran Scott. This New Edition, uniform with "The Age of Fable," has been thoroughly revised and a number of new chapters added. The numerous illustrations have been prepared with great care and considerable expense. As "The Age of Fable" superseded all former editions of that book, so this edition of "The Age of Chivalry" is far superior to any other work on the subject yet published.

Crown octavo, ... net 2 00

"No one can read this edition of 'The Age of Chivalry' without coming in contact with the best literature of the Arthurian Legends. While retaining the old, at the same time we have created a new work. The interest of these legends naturally centers about King Arthur and Queen Guinevere. In the case of Guinevere we have added a new section, and also enlarged the chapter that treats of Arthur and the passing of his kingdom. The names ranking next in interest are those of Launcelot and Elaine; here, too, we have written an additional section. At the close of the first part we have inserted a chapter on Mediæval Legends. St. George and Robin Hood attach to an importance scarcely surpassed by King Arthur himself. We have also drawn directly from Sir Thomas Mallory, especially in connection with the adventures of Sir Tor, Sir Pellenore, Sir Gawain, Sir Launcelot, and Sir Galahad."

"A Third Part with seven additional chapters has been added, consisting largely of the writings of Ossian. Whatever may have been the origin of those strange books, they certainly embody more of the ancient spirit of Britain than any other similar work."

BYRON. Newstead Edition. The Complete Dramatic and Poetical Works of Lord Byron, with an Illustrated Life of the Poet by Professor John Nichols, embodying many Fresh and Interesting Incidents of Byron's Life, and with Notes and References to his Poems and Writings. The text is taken from the latest and most approved English editions, with many highly interesting notes, especially valuable to American readers. COOK, WILLIAM. The Chess Player's Compendium. A Practical Guide to the openings. Fifth Edition, with a new supplement by Alfred Emery. A collection of nearly two thousand examples, continued to the twentieth move, from games actually played by experts, will meet the requirements of students who, nowadays, seek some knowledge of the method of framing an attack or establishing a defense in the early "middle game," to supplement their experimental familiarity with the preliminary stage of the opening. 332 pages, 8vo, . . 2 50

CHESS SACRIFICES AND TRAPS. By Alfred Emery. (With a note on the "New Ideas.") 12mo, cloth binding . . . . . net, 1 25

The first part of the work consists of a selection of traps from the Openings. As the author remarks in his preface, a number of well-known typical snares could not possibly be omitted, for, if as ancient, almost, as the game itself, they still trouble afresh each new generation of learners. As much new matter has been introduced, however, as was reasonably practicable.

In the second part of the book Middle Game sacrifices are illustrated from the splendid combinative play of Alekhine, Reti, Bogoljubow and other modern Masters, admittedly unequalled in this phase of Chess.

The third part of the book consists of Endings, in which also the idea of sacrifice predominates.

CHESS OF TO-DAY. By Alfred Emery (Author of "Chess Sacrifices and Traps," etc., etc.) 12mo, cloth . . . . . net, 1 25

Owing to the success and wide appreciation of Mr. Emery's former work, the publishers, anticipate a large demand for this new book, which contains a large selection of the best games of the best Masters. Mr. Emery grips that period of vivid and surprising interest, 1918–23, and in a concise, lucid, and masterly manner comments upon the games. His Introduction to the book should be read by all Chess players who are interested in the rise, progress, and influence of the ultra-modern school.

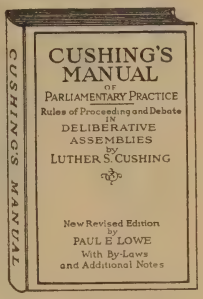
CUSHING'S MANUAL OF PARLIAMENTARY PRACTICE

Prominent among the new features presented in the revision of Cushing's Manual is a model form for the drafting of CONSTITUTIONS and BY-LAWS, which, with slight and appropriate modifications, may be made to apply to any character of deliberative body; and also an EXEMPLAR demonstrating the correct proceedings of a meeting in active operation.

Revised by PAUL E. LOWE



This standard manual, just revised, amplified and brought up to date, is preëminently the most complete, highly instructive, and thoroughly reliable guide, now available to the practical application of PARLIAMENTARY LAW, and for the orderly regulation of the proceedings in all legislative assemblies, meetings of societies, associations, corporation directories, clubs, and organizations of every character.

For the vast number of deliberative organizations already in existence in every state, county, large and small municipalities, and urban communities; as well as for the guidance of groups of American citizens, wherever located, who may have in contemplation the creation of organizations for the promotion of any object or cause whatsoever, the possession of a copy of this incomparable authority on every fundamental feature and essential detail of Parliamentary Practice, is of the most vital importance; and this is particularly true as referred to such members of organizations who are elected or appointed to act in official capacities. DAWSON, MARY. The Mary Dawson Game Book. In planning the home entertainments, which have become in this country such a delightful part of the social life of every community, there is nothing in which the hostess stands more frequently in need than good original games. The games of to-day are as diversified as those who assemble at parties, and this book covers every occasion. For the young, runabout games; for the sedate, question games and guessing contests; for boys and girls who will follow a college course in the near future, games with a college flavor; for tiny tots, games so simple that even a three-year-old can grasp them.

In this book practically all the pastimes and contests described are original inventions of the author. A few good old games which seem to have been forgotten in our day and generation, have been revived and included, being too good to be allowed to sink into oblivion. Large 12mo, cloth, 825 pages . . Net, $2 00

DAWSON, MARY. Money-Making Entertainments for Church and Charity. Some of the noblest works of church and charity are maintained by men and women who are not of the moneyed class. Energy and devotion are their offering to the cause, and these most frequently take the form of arranging entertainments to draw in sums large or small. For all such affairs an original idea is essential and those who fail do so for lack of a novel plan. 305 pages, 12mo, cloth, . . . Net, 1 25

DAWSON, MARY, and EMMA PADDOCK TELFORD. The Book of Entertainments and Frolics for All Occasions. In giving a part on a holiday or special occasion, the difficulty of the hostess lies in the selection of an appropriate entertainment. This book solves the problem.

THE MOST COMPLETE PRONOUNCING DICTIONARIES—INDISPENSABLE FOR THE STUDY OF FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Containing the whole Vocabulary in General Use with copious selections of Scientific, Technical, and Commercial Terms, and others brought into Use, with their Pronunciations figured in both Languages.

Two Parts in One Volume

French-English and English-French. A dictionary of the French and English languages. By E. CLIFTON and J. MCLAUGHLIN.

The pronunciation of every word is given as nearly as it was found possible to represent it according to the English sounds. In addition to this the editor has added a chapter on "French pronunciation in general," which will be of great value in helping the beginner to acquire the correct pronunciation.

1370 Pages, Large 12mo, Cloth, net $2.00

Italian-English—English-Italian. A new dictionary of the Italian and English languages. By A. ENENKEL, revised and corrected by J. MCLAUGHLIN.

This dictionary contains all the words used by writers from the beginning of the seventeenth century to the present time, also special terms relating to Sciences, Arts, Commerce and Manufactures vainly sought after in so many similar works.

The pronunciation is figured by a very simple system and as exactly as possible.

1090 Pages, Large 12mo, Cloth, net $2.00

Spanish-English—English-Spanish. A new dictionary of the Spanish and English languages. By A. ANGELI, revised and corrected by J. MCLAUGHLIN.

TO THE STUDENT AND TRANSLATOR THIS WORK WILL BE A BENEFIT; TO THE TRADESMAN, MANUFACTURER AND POLITICIAN A NECESSITY

The increased commercial relation with Cuba, Porto Rico, Philippines and South American countries has rendered this study indispensable even to him who is not attracted by the pleasure of being able to read in the original the works of the poets, historians, philosophers and men of science.

In addition to the words in general use the work includes the majority of proper names and places which differ in the two languages, and special terms relating to Sciences, Arts, Commerce and Manufacture.

Conklin's Vest-pocket Book of Synonyms and Antonyms. By Prof. Geo. W. Conklin of Hamilton University. In "Synonyms and Antonyms" the index words are distinguished by bold type and arranged alphabetically. Immediately after each index word follow words similar in meaning—synonyms—and thereafter, again, in parentheses, a series of words opposite thereto in meaning—antonyms. A knowledge of words is the most direct possible test of culture and civilization. Increase your vocabulary—it will pay in dollars and cents.

Conklin's Vest-pocket Book of Familiar Quotations. By Prof. Geo. W. Conklin, of Hamilton University. No one can be expected to remember the exact words of the great authors he has read, and indeed no one has time to read over even hastily a tithe of the good things that the ages have accumulated. Hence a little book like this is indispensable. As we turn over its pages we are reminded of many wise and witty sentences we had forgotten, and we discover others we wonder at ourselves for having missed. Such a book is not to be read through at a sitting. Rather it is to be tasted every day or two.

Conklin's Vest-pocket Argument Settler. By Prof. Geo. W. Conklin, of Hamilton University. Revised and brought down to date by Paul E. Lowe, Ph.D. Containing all the latest railroad, electric, army, navy, and other valuable statistics, and covers the whole range of important scientific discovery and development. A complete encyclopedia of facts, statistics, tables and general information. A marvel of condensation; never before has there been published such an immense amount of knowledge in so small a space. The thousands of items of information covered by this book are so varied and extensive that it is almost impossible to find out what it does not contain. An idea of the immense number of facts to be found in Conklin's Argument Settler will be given by the fact that the index to contents embraces over sixteen pages. Five minutes' inspection of this little book invariably determines the examiner that he wants it. Strictly up-to-date.

Conklin's Vest-pocket "Who Wrote That?" Comprising 3216 Prose Selections. Edited by Prof. Geo. W. Conklin, of Hamilton University.

Who Wrote That? is an all too familiar question, the answer to which can be found in this handy volume. On no occasion is its value so great as when you do not have it convenient for ready reference. Containing, as it does, over three thousand two hundred selections from the world's choicest writings, it is an ever present help of great value.

Flexible Cloth Binding, Red Edges 50

Conklin's Vest-pocket "Who Wrote That?" Comprising Thousands of Poetic Selections. Edited by Prof. Geo. W. Conklin, of Hamilton University.

A necessary little book of exquisite binding. How complete it is may be judged from the fact that 26 pages of double column small type were necessary to contain its index alone. To those who wish to know and quote correctly this volume is indispensable.

Conklin's Vest-pocket "Who Said That?" Being Famous Sayings and Their Sources. Edited by Prof. Geo. W. Conklin, of Hamilton University.

This work is distinct from "Who Wrote That?" as it contains the choicest selections from the world's famous speeches or "sayings" as distinct from writings. It is necessary to recall only a word of a famous saying to quote it, for a wonderfully complete double column index of 25 pages will supply any forgotten point and enable you to locate the "sayings" quickly

Conklin's Vest-pocket Civil and Business Law Book. By Prof. Geo. W. Conklin, of Hamilton University.

Much unpleasant litigation is the result of ignorance concerning the proper forms of legal business papers and point of commercial law. A single item of reliable information here furnished may save the possessor much annoyance and many times the price of the book. The title of this book expresses its aim. It furnishes in a concise form the most valuable and necessary information on the subjects on which it treats. The practical value of this convenient volume can hardly be overestimated. On the desk of the accountant, in the hands of the merchant, the contractor, the mechanic and the business man—everybody, in fact, who wishes to keep out of trouble, or get out if they happen to get in, the book will prove a ready counselor and valuable guide.

Faulty Diction—or, Errors in the Use of the English Language, and How to Correct Them. (Vest-Pocket Size.) Thomas H. Russell, LL. B., editor-in-chief of Webster's Imperial Dictionary, did the public a great service when he wrote this book in which there are 1017 headings treated, and under some of them—plurals for instance—over fifty every-day errors are illustrated and corrected.

Who does not make errors in speech? Probably there is no person who does not do so occasionally. To use the English language with correctness would be a phenomenon. But there are numerous faulty expressions so widely employed as to have secured something of the status of perfect diction. Many people who ought to know better believe them to be proper, and will defend them with promptitude and even passion. There is a large number of common blunders so grotesquely stupid that they raise one's gorge. They are so common that many people think the improper form the correct one.

Ogilvie's Concise World's Atlas and Gazetteer. Based Upon the Latest Census Reports and Official Estimates.

By L. Brent Vaughan, Ph.B. The plan on which this Gazetteer is arranged is somewhat different from that usually followed. A word of explanation, however, will suffice to point out the superior method used. In the main the arrangement is alphabetic. Under the leading Political Divisions are grouped the principal facts pertaining to those divisions. For example, under France are included all the departments and the principal cities of the French Republic, with their populations according to the latest census. Likewise all mountain ranges in the world are grouped under Mountain Ranges, the rivers under Rivers, lakes under Lakes, oceans under Oceans, capes under Capes, straits, channels and sounds under Straits. This is the only gazetteer published so arranged.

The Jefferson Bible. By Thomas Jefferson. The third president of the United States, by clipping from the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, compiled a connected narrative, which he entitled, The Life and Morals of Jesus of Nazareth. The compilation begins with the first verse of the second chapter of Luke and ends with the last portion of the sixtieth verse of the twenty-seventh chapter of Matthew. In the compilation he made use of 120 different clippings, changing from one of the Gospels to another, and frequently back again to the same chapter for another verse; in some instances taking a considerable portion of a chapter exactly as it appears in the Bible, in others rearranging the verses as best suited his purpose, and in still others using a few verses or only a small part of a given verse to round out some portion of the narrative.

DUMAS, ALEXANDRE. A LIFE'S AMBITION: Being the Adventures and Tribulations of an Actor. Author of "Love and Liberty," "The Prussian Terror," "The Neapolitan Lovers," etc. With an introduction by R. S. Garnett. 12mo, cloth .....net $2 00

For the first time this remarkable story appears in English, and the circumstances surrounding its authorship are particularly interesting. One day Dumas asked a friend into his room and invited him to relate the story of his life. "But there is no story to tell," objected the friend. "That will be for me to judge," said Dumas. What he heard was so interesting that the next day he published the first chapter of M. Gustave's life in the pages of his newspaper Le Mousquetaire. Dumas declared that he meant to devote four or five chapters only to his friend, but his readers became so greatly interested that he ended by giving them a volume. To all lovers of Dumas, "A Life's Ambition" will prove a real feast. Especially as it ends with a marvellous account of his own experiences as a dramatist.

A prominent U. S. Congressman recently consulted a leading specialist—professor in the Medical College of Johns Hopkins University—and after being charged $50.00 for a diagnosis, was told to "Buy a copy of Lieut. Müller's Book 'MY SYSTEM,' follow his directions and take no medicine." The congressman afterwards stated that the prescription was worth many times the cost. This story is vouched for by the Hon. A. W. Lafferty.

MY SYSTEM: Fifteen Minutes a Day for Health's Sake.

By Lieut. J. P. Müller. With 44 illustrations and a Time Chart. This book embodies what is stated to be the most adaptable and most scientific system of Home Exercise known. It is graded so as to make it of service to young people, elderly people, and to people not physically fit. It can be performed in whichever degree is chosen in 15 minutes, and this time includes the taking of a bath. No apparatus of any kind is required. "My System" is divided into two parts—eight exercises before the bath and ten rubbing exercises after. The system is primarily intended for people who desire to obtain and retain good health. The whole of the movements are designed to strengthen the internal organs of the body. 8vo, cloth, ... Net, $1 25

"MY SYSTEM"—Continued.

MY SYSTEM FOR LADIES. Lieut. Müller has adapted his System of Exercise to the special requirements of ladies—both young and old. The exercises are of extreme value in enabling young women to preserve and older women to regain suppleness, shapeliness, energy and health.

Seek health aright and you will attain beauty. No woman is unbeautiful if really healthy, and therefore every woman can enhance her beauty by improving her health—at a cost of only a few minutes' daily practice of "My System."

MY SYSTEM FOR CHILDREN is an adaptation of Lieut. Müller's famous System to the needs of children. It is similar to his other books in the sense that it is entirely free from crankiness, or impossible and extreme measures. It is a book which will be appreciated by every parent who wishes his or her children to grow up to strength and vitality, and to possess adequate powers of resistance to illness and fatigue, and like Lieut. Müller's System for men and women it is carefully and scientifically graded so as not to overtax or strain the muscles of the child. Also, as in the case of his other books, the author has based his System not on theory only, but on the results of actual experience.

MY BREATHING SYSTEM. Everybody knows that without air we should be unable to exist more than a few minutes, but that it is possible to exist for at least a week without water, while people have fasted from food for from 40 to 70 days and even longer. Air is nutriment, therefore, of even more importance than liquid and solid foods.

Followers of "My System" will know what importance Lieut. Müller has always attached to correct breathing. It is to the practically universal neglect of the Art of Breathing that the author attributes the prevalence of many diseases, especially those which attack the Lungs, Thorax, Heart and the Blood.

"Teach children to breathe properly," says Lieut. Müller, "and the spread of the Great White Scourge would be appreciably diminished." The best curative measure for Anemia, Chlorosis, Gout, Diabetes and other diseases of Metabolism is, he maintains, the regular practice of deep breathing exercises.

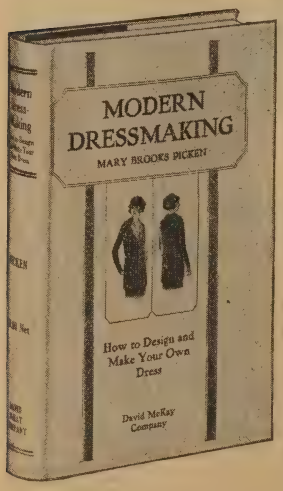
PICKEN, MARY BROOKS. The Secrets of Distinctive Dress. Director of Instruction, Woman's Inst. of Dom. Arts and Sciences. 8vo, cloth, net, 2 00

It is natural and proper that you should want always to look your best—to appear attractive in your own home, among friends, in social and in business life. To do this you should have clothes distinctively becoming, clothes that appropriately frame your beauty, clothes that accentuate your charm, clothes that overcome any plainness or little defect of feature or figure—in brief, clothes that express your own individuality and invariably convey the impression of having been designed, planned, and made just for you. "The Secrets of Distinctive Dress" helps you first of all to understand yourself, to know your type. Then it tells you what lines to follow, what colors to use, what materials to choose so as to dress your type with distinction. It teaches you how to design, plan, and select garments that are in every sense an expression of your individuality.



PICKEN, MARY BROOKS. Modern Dressmaking. How to Design and Make Your Own Dress.

CONTENTS: Tissue-Paper Patterns; Dress Development; Designing With Foundation Patterns; Cutting and Fitting; Dress Construction and Finishing Dresses; Ribbon Trimmings and Flowers. Fully Illustrated, 496 pages, 8vo, cloth . . . . . net 3 00

Garment making, like bread making, originated in the home and later became a definite and prominent part of trade work, but, like bread making, will always remain as a desirable part of home work and of individual shop work.

This Volume covers many stages of dressmaking—the use of tissue-paper patterns, the designing, the cutting, the making, and the trimming of garments. To design, cut, and construct lovely, wearable garments is an achievement worthy of our best pride, so it behooves us to study and practice and actually learn how to make garments that will do us credit.

STODDART, A. M. The Life of Paracelsus. The revived interest in Magnetic and Faith Healing, and the much more sympathetic attitude lately adopted by the leaders of modern science towards an intellectual interpretation of life, till recently dismissed as savoring of superstition and charlatanry, gives an added interest to the life story of one of the greatest Mediæval pioneers of Occult Science in its bearing on the problems of Psycho-Therapeutics. While Paracelsus was in fact the real founder of Homœopathy, he was also the first physician to apply in practice the principles of Magnetism and Magnetic Healing. He laid the foundations of a new system built on evidence rather than on the out-worn traditions of the Medicine of his day. This system comprised within itself not only a practical guide to the medical art but also a spiritual philosophy of life. 8vo, cloth . . . . . net, 2 00

URLIN, ETHEL. A Short History of Marriage. A popular account of a popular institution, this chatty and informing volume is of the kind that becomes a household favorite.

It contains a sketch of the evolution of Marriage and Marriage Customs, from the earliest days when "might was right," to the later developments of Marriage by Barter and Marriage by Consent. The variations of principle and practice concerning marriage among primitive and modern races in the East and West furnish material of absorbing interest to the student of Sociology, and the innumerable superstitions and observances associated with the Institution supply much novel and curious matter for the entertainment of the casual reader.

WELLS, JANE WARREN. Dress and Look Slender. Large 12mo, cloth .....net, 2 00

I am 30 pounds overweight, yet no one ever suspects it. I have given up all thought of taking dangerous medicines, wearing annoying appliances, and doing strenuous exercises in an effort to reduce. I am healthy, happy, and comfortable, but I appear 30 pounds lighter than I really am because I have followed scientific principles in planning and selecting clothes that make me look slender. These principles, made so clear that any one can understand and use them, I have set forth in this book.—The Author.

THE GREAT INITIATES. Complete Edition of Edouard Schuré's "Les Grands Initiés," with an Introduction to Esoteric Teaching, and a Frontispiece Portrait of the Author. Translated by Fred Rothwell, B.A. 8vo, cloth, 2 vols., 362 pp. and 394 pp.....net, 4 00
Volumes not sold singly.

"Deep learning, a sustained and convincing eloquence, and a penetrating poetry of atmosphere are the distinguishing qualities of 'The Great Initiates,' translated from the French of M. Edouard Schuré by Mr. Fred Rothwell. The labour of presenting to a twentieth-century public the shadowy and elusive personalities of the Great Initiates—Rama, Krishma, Hermes, Moses, Orpheus, Pythagoras, Plato, and the last and greatest of all, demands at once the detailed knowledge of the historian and the sympathetic imagination of the poet. M. Schuré possesses these precious qualities in a high degree, and his book is certain of an enthusiastic welcome."—Sunday Times.

TRANSCENDENTAL MAGIC: ITS DOCTRINE, PRACTICE, AND RITUAL. By ELIPHAS LÉVI. Translated, annotated and introduced by ARTHUR EDWARD WAITE. 9 ins. x 6 ins., ornamental cloth, about 560 pp., with all the original plates and portrait.....net, 7 50

This authoritative and famous work by the founder of modern occultism is generally regarded as indispensable to the study of the theory and practice of magic.

Mr. Waite's translation of Eliphas Lévi's MAGNUM OPUS appeared originally in 1895, has been long out of print, and copies, which are exceedingly scarce, are in continual demand among students and collectors. In the present re-issue the text has been revised throughout and elucidatory notes have been added, the materials being drawn mainly from other expository writings of the French Magus, scarcely any of which are available in English, and some of them at the present day are met with but rarely in France. They are: (1) THE RED BOOK. (2) DICTIONARY OF CHRISTIAN LITERATURE. (3) THE GOSPEL OF FREEDOM. (4) KEY TO THE GREAT MYSTERIES. (5) THE SCIENCE OF SPIRITS. (6) THE BOOK OF THE SAGES. (7) FABLES AND SYMBOLS. (8) THE SORCERER OF MEUDON. (9) PARADOXES OF THE HIGHEST SCIENCE. (10) THE GATES OF THE FUTURE. (11) THE HOLY KINGDOM. (12) THE GREATER KEYS. (13) THE MYSTERIES OF THE KABALAH. (14) LETTERS TO BARON SPEDALIERI.

THE BOOK OF TALISMANS, AMULETS AND ZODIACAL GEMS. By William Thomas and Kate Pavitt. Illustrated with a colored frontispiece and ten full page plates. 292 pages. Octavo, cloth, . . net, $4 00

This work is the outcome of many years' study of occultism, ancient and modern, covering a very wide area, beginning with prehistoric talismans, and ranging through Egyptian, Chinese, Japanese, Thibetan, Indian, Etruscan, Greek, Roman, early Christian and mediæval civilizations. The subject is rich in romantic interest and is calculated to make a very wide appeal. The illustrations form an important feature of the book, being drawn from authentic examples by a skilled artist, and reproduced with exceptional care and accuracy.

THE RIDDLE OF THE SPHINX. By J. Munsell Chase. This work explains Unity, Duality, the Trinity and the Quaternity, showing them to be facts in nature; it defines spirit and the Fourth Dimension, showing wherein they consist; defines man's relation to the Zodiac, and makes plain many profound mysteries heretofore left in the dark. This condensed compendium of mystic principles has justly received the unqualified praise of eminent thinkers. One says: "It has solved a hundred doubts for me." What do you know about the Pyramids? What do you know about the Sphinx? What do you know about their builders? Do you know what facts they intended to symbolize by them? If you have not studied them, or do not understand their meaning, READ THIS BOOK. Thirty plates of Symbols. 12mo, cloth, ... net, 1 00

HOW TO CONTROL FATE THROUGH SUGGESTION..... $0 50

The principles dealt with are: Unity—Revolution—Tendency of Thought—Fate—Man—Logic—Matter—Evolution—Force—Spirit—The New Man—Finer Vibrations—All Knowledge Possible—Race Sensitiveness—Saviours—Progress—No Sickness—Liberty—Spiritual Gifts—Classification of Psychic Power—Love—Love's Pitch and Octaves—Concentration—Involuntary Concentration—One Power to Heal—Millennium Here.

SELF-HEALING THROUGH SUGGESTION 50

This book has had a phenomenal sale. In Part First the Principles of Mental Healing are simply and plainly set forth. Healing is dealt with in the same manner as the Professor of Chemistry or Physics deals with his subject.

EVERY QUESTION naturally asked in relation to drugless healing is answered.

In Part Second all the necessary directions and formulas are given for self-healing. All any one needs to know, that he may be able to use thought for the restoration of health, is here stated in terms so simple that the ordinary person can follow.

DOLLARS WANT ME. The New Road to Opulence, a Soul Culture Lesson 50

This well conserves the purpose for which it was written. I wish to awaken my fellows to a sense of their present possessions and help them to a realization of the principle which controls Life's expression, so that, Living being to them "a fine art," they will cease to look for happiness in some far-off heaven, but will enter into the enjoyment of the one they create here and now. It is believed that this little monograph is the first utterance of the thought that each individual has the ability to so radiate his mental force that he can cause the dollar to feel him, love him, seek him, and thus draw, at will, all things needed for his unfoldment from the Universal Supply.

"It will help you to rise above the drudgery of enforced labor, and enable you to enter upon the manifold expressions of life with the joy and spontaneity of childhood."—Henry Harrison Brown.

CONCENTRATION. The Road to Success. One of the Most Practical Books upon the Subject..... 50

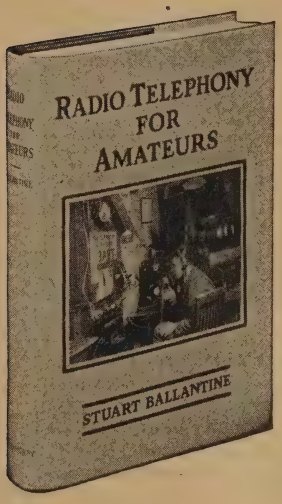
Radio Telephony for Amateurs

By STUART BALLANTINE

Consulting Engineer and Formerly Expert Radio Aid, United States Navy



TELLS YOU HOW AND WHY

You have in this book the ripened fruit of fourteen years concentrated study on the Telephone, Radio Telegraphy, and Radio Telephony. While Expert Radio Aide for the U. S. Navy Dept., Mr. Ballantine developed many pieces of very efficient and highly confidential radio apparatus. As a Fellow of the Amer. Phys. Soc. and a Member of the Amer. Math. Asso., A. I. E. E., and I. R. E., he gives to you the very latest ideas on Radio, fully tried out in his consulting practice.

IDEAS THAT WILL IMPROVE YOUR SET

Alternating Current; theory and practice.
Production, Transmission, and Reception of Radio Waves.
Telephony with wires, and without.
The Audion as a Detector, Amplifier and Oscillator.
How to build efficient Antennæ of Special Types.
What can be done with a Counterpoise.
Special Receiving Antennæ on Houses.
How to get the most out of Power Tubes.
Modulation Methods fully described.
How to get perfectly clear transmission.
How to make correctly designed parts.
Various sources of Power to drive the Set.
How to design the Filter Circuit.
How to make Step-up Transformers and Choke Coils.
Chemical Rectifier construction details.
Generator re-winding data.
Crystal and Audion Detection methods.
Autodyne and Heterodyne Reception; construction for Armstrong and Reinartz circuits.
How to make Radio and Audio Amplifiers.
Getting best results from Telephones and Loud Speakers.
Underwriters' Specifications for wiring and lighting protection.

CLARKE, J. J. The Slide Rule. An Elementary Treatise. The author has no apology to make for afflicting the public with another book on the slide rule. He has been approached many times by engineers owning a rule, but practically unable to work it, with a request for an explanation of how to use it in certain cases. This has served to demonstrate that the instructions studied were not understood, and that they were so difficult, meager, or ambiguous that the reader did not have the patience to study them until he had mastered the intricacies of the rule.

To a person who thoroughly understands three or four of the leading principles, the slide rule is a wonderfully simple and easily operated instrument. It is not necessary for him to remember any settings, and he can solve any case with ease and precision. Bearing this in mind the author has endeavored to explain these principles so thoroughly that they cannot be forgotten, and in such a manner that any one with a fair knowledge of arithmetic can readily understand them. The writer hopes that this little book will be of value not only to the beginner but also to those who already have attained a considerable degree of proficiency in the use of the engineer's best friend—the slide rule. CARPENTRY AND JOINERY. By William S. Lowndes, Ph.B. A Practical Manual for Carpenters, Builders, and Woodworkers. Fully Illustrated, 8vo, cloth.....net, $2 50

HOW TO READ BLUEPRINTS. A Practical Manual for Reading Architects' Blueprints. By William S. Lowndes, Ph.B. Fully illustrated. 8vo, cloth.....net, 2 00

Realizing that there is a positive and widely spread demand for information regarding the art of reading and understanding blueprints, the author has endeavored to meet that demand in the preparation of this volume.

Ambitious carpenters and other building trades mechanics, however well trained in their respective trades, find their progress toward higher positions blocked by their inability to read working drawings or blueprints. These mechanics must take orders, therefore, from a building contractor or a foreman who has studied and acquired the knowledge of how to read blueprints.

This book will also be of use to contractors who are required to make estimates and to erect buildings from blueprints; also to subcontractors in the various trades, to building foremen, to mechanics desiring to become foremen, and to merchants and material men who furnish materials for use in a building.

HOUSE WIRING AND BELL WORK. Edited by William S. Lowndes, Ph.B. 8vo, cloth.....net, 2 00

In preparing this book on House Wiring and Bell Work an attempt has been made to free the subject from technical difficulties as far as possible, so that the subject might be understood by one who has only a limited knowledge of the subject of Electricity. It is hoped that it will thus be of use to the layman, the apprentice, and even to the wiring contractor.

PLASTER AND PLASTERING. By W. S. Lowndes and D. Knickerbacker Boyd. 73 Illustrations, 2 of which are in color. The book treats first of the preparation of a suitable base to support the plaster, and describes and illustrates the various kinds of furring and their application. The subjects of grounds, corner beads, wooden and metal lath, fireproof partitions, plaster boards and wall boards are next considered. The methods, materials, and tools used in plastering are described. Lime plaster, gypsum plaster, Keen's cement, Caen stone, and Portland cement plasters are described, also the methods used in their preparation and application. Ornamental plastering and the use of cast ornament are next discussed. Exterior plastering or stucco of various kinds are described and their advantages mentioned. The methods used in overcoating old buildings are given. 8vo, cloth,.....net, 1 25

HOLLOW TILE CONSTRUCTION. By Charles E. White, Jr., and W. S. Lowndes. Fully Illustrated. In this book the various standard types of hollow tile are described, together with the kinds of special tile that are used with the standard tile. The advantages claimed for each type are given. The application of these types to the construction of walls of different thickness is also described. The methods used in constructing walls, arches, lintels, etc., that are recommended by the hollow-tile manufacturers and which are in general use are illustrated and described. The use of hollow-tile blocks in building is also taken up. The methods used in attaching furring, trim, etc., to tile walls are shown. The finishing of hollow-tile buildings with stucco is described and examples of buildings before and after being stuccoed are shown. The treatment of the subject of Hollow Tile is up to date and represents the latest approved practice in the use of these blocks. 8vo, cloth,....net,$1 25

ROPER'S NEW QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS. First Aid to an Engineer or Fireman Undergoing an Examination for the Purpose of Procuring a License. Entirely rewritten and greatly enlarged by Rufus T. Strohm and James D. Purdy. 12mo, leatheroid binding, . . net, $2 00

Because of the increase of pressures used in steam plants and the consequent greater danger through ignorant or careless management, states and municipalities are adopting stringent laws and ordinances to govern the licensing of steam-plant employes. Yet, so far as is known, there is no authoritative and comprehensive statement of the qualifications that should be possessed by licensed stationary engineers. The nature and scope of the questions given by the examining boards are about the only indication of the knowledge that the successful applicant must possess.

In the absence of a definite statement of desirable qualifications on the part of applicants for license as stationary engineers, the authors of this edition have included such material as, in their judgment, a capable engineer should know.

Especial care has been taken to refer to the many forms of boiler-room and engine-room devices that form so important a part of the equipment of modern power plants, and with the action and uses of which the alert engineer should be familiar.

The use of the internal combustion engine for the propulsion of vessels has necessitated the addition of a new section relating to the principles of prime mover, with especial emphasis on the marine Diesel engine.

Owing to the many developments in the electrical field since the previous edition was printed, it was found necessary to entirely rewrite and enlarge the electrical section. The object of this section is to show the switchboard attendant or electrician how to do a certain thing, and since this book is intended for the practical man, no attempt has been made to go into many details regarding the theory underlying the design, construction and operation of electrical apparatus.

MAGIC.

GOOD, ARTHUR. Magical Experiments, or Science in Play. Illustrated and Explained. A Book for Young and Old. By Arthur Good. A Series of 200 Amusing, Popular, Scientific Experiments Meant for the Recreation of Old and Young. 165 Fine Illustrations. Square 12mo, gilt back and side, ... $1 50

Many of these are simple pastimes, others possess a really scientific character, while the whole of these experiments may be performed without any special apparatus whatever. To give an idea of the endless variety of the work, we quote a few problems: A Rolling Body Goes Uphill, Foucault's Pendulum, The Egg in Salt Water, How to Make a Banana Peel Itself, Wine Changed to Water, The Plate on the Point of a Needle, How to Pierce a Nickel with a Needle, The Revolving Siphon, The Miniature Steamship, The Bottle Cannon, The Waltzing Egg, The Water Pendulum, In Water but not Wet, The Magic Ball, etc., etc. This entertaining book, written in language that every one can understand, gives the best answer to the so often repeated question, "What shall we do to-night?"

HOFFMANN, PROF. Modern Magic. A Practical Treatise on the Art of Conjuring. By Professor Hoffmann. With 318 Illustrations; 563 pages. With an Appendix containing explanations of many of the best known specialties of Maskelyne and Cooke. A handsome and substantial book, containing 300 tricks. Large 12mo, bound in cloth, . 2 00

Is a treatise, and a very practical one, on the art of conjuring, in its various and bewildering departments, some of which require special apparatus, most of which require that dexterity known as sleight-of-hand. There are, for example, card tricks which can be played with ordinary cards and without sleight-of-hand, and others again which demand special apparatus. There are coin tricks, tricks with watches, rings, handkerchiefs, dominoes, dice, etc.

The tricks are clearly and comprehensively explained by diagrams and illustrations when necessary. This book will afford an inexhaustible fund of amusement in a family where the young people are fond of games and are quick in acquiring these things. The explanations are given most comprehensively, and cover an immense field; besides, the book is filled with illustrations demonstrating the easiest way to accomplish these feats of legerdemain, magic, etc.

There is a vast difference between telling how a trick is done and teaching how to do it. This is the only book that teaches how to do it.

CHARACTER SKETCHES FROM DICKENS. Compiled with Foreword by B. W. Matz, Editor of the Dickensian. With Introduction by Kate Perugini, Charles Dickens' Daughter. 30 Illustrations in colour by Harold Copping.

Lovers of Dickens, and what thousands there are, will welcome this volume, so beautifully illustrated with 30 full page Colour Plates by the well-known artist Mr. Harold Copping, and compiled by Mr. B. W. Matz the greatest living Authority on Dickens and his works. Mr. Matz has written an interesting introductory preface to each of the works here illustrated and for every picture has selected the appropriate extracts from the novels.

The book is also embellished with two exquisite portraits of the great novelist taken from Engravings by J. C. Armytage, and R. Graves, A.R.A., the latter from a painting by D. Maclise, R.A.

The human element in this delightful volume finds sympathetic expression in the introduction which Mrs. Kate Perugini has specially written for this publication. In this, we are led behind the scenes and into the sanctum in which Charles Dickens created his masterpieces.

Quarto. Cloth binding boxed ..... net, $5 00

Edition De Luxe (limited to 1000 copies). Each copy numbered and signed by Mr. Harold Copping, Mr. B. W. Matz, and the Publishers. Leather binding, gilt top, silk register and head band. ..... net, 15 00

In her interesting introduction, Mrs. Perugini remarks:

"Mr. Copping's ideas are always happy and very often breathe the very spirit of the familiar figures and well remembered scenes they represent. As to the charming way his illustrations are reproduced and given to the public, the book speaks for itself and requires no interpreter. It may not be out of place if I mention here that, in answer to a request lately made, I have just heard from Mr. B. W. Matz, the well-known Editor of The Dickensian, who is more learned, I believe, in artistic and literary matters connected with my father than anyone else I know. He tells me no fewer than sixty artists resident in England and sixteen American artists have illustrated his works, and probably the number is still increasing, so tempting are his subjects to Publisher and Artist alike."

Mr. Matz in his foreword says:

"No English novelist has peopled the world of imaginative literature with such a concourse of real persons as Dickens has, each of whom differs and stands apart from the others, possessing a separate and distinct individuality of his or her own—characters we have come to know so well as to claim them as our own personal friends. Indeed, it may be said with truth that we know the people of Dickens' books more intimately than we do our own friends."

THE RUBAIYAT OF OMAR KHAYYAM. Illustrated with twelve full page plates in full color by Doris M. Palmer. Cloth binding, with design and lettering in gold. Quarto ..... net, 3 50

We have secured a limited number of this beautiful edition for collectors of the "Rubaiyat" in the United States to sell at a special price and we are advised by the English publishers that it is doubtful if the book will ever be reprinted in its present form.

FAMOUS COLONIAL HOUSES. By Paul M. Hollister. Illustrated with twelve full page colored plates in full color by James Preston. With an introduction by Julian Street. Quarto, cloth, boxed..... net, $5 00

"We should all see these houses, or if we cannot see them, we should know them as some of them are made known to us in this book. Our land is a better land for having them within its borders, and we will be better citizens for an acquaintance with them."—Julian Street.

"Not a manual of Colonial architecture, but rather a descriptive record of notable achievements of the period. Such 'show places' as Mount Vernon, Monticello and Doughregan, the seat of Charles Carroll of Carrollton, 'the last of the signers,' are exhibited descriptively and historically. The text embodies biographies of famous owners or dwellers in the historic houses, as well as anecdotes and legends galore. The illustrations by James Preston are in full color. The book is sumptuous in appearance."—Public Ledger.

" 'Famous Colonial Houses,' as a book on American architecture, is a most delightful anthology of anecdote.

"No one can appreciate to the full a Greek temple or a Gothic cathedral without a knowledge of hellenistic philosophy or of mediæval religion, and this volume pictures in words and colors the customs and characteristics for fifty years before and after the Revolution, when the twelve 'colonial' houses enjoyed their days of romance. In place of an essay on the climatic and social influences of America on Georgian architecture, it is a personal narrative of our country's forebears.

"There is no pedantry in Mr. Hollister's treatment of the subject. The architecture is not dissected by the archæologist, the history is not stifled by the chronologist, the legends are not denuded by the iconoclast; instead, the personality of the mansions and of their occupants is presented briefly and gayly. Washington, Jefferson, and Carroll; Madame Jumel, 'Lord' Dexter, and Madame Lalaurie, great and small, are once more alive and human; their homes are no longer museum pieces and their epoch is brought into relation with our own."—The House Beautiful.

LOVE STORIES OF ENGLISH QUEENS: History seen through the Glamour of Romance. By Elizabeth Villiers. Large 12mo, cloth. Twenty full-page illustrations printed on art paper.....net,$2 50

This book is as enjoyable as a novel, and contains quite a large amount of historical data imparted in a delightfully entertaining manner. It makes a capital gift book particularly for girl students. The author touches on a little explored source in dealing with the personal characteristics and incidents in the lives of the early English Queens, and the work must have meant a great deal of patient research. The task has been accomplished in a most successful manner and the book deserves the popularity it is likely to secure. There are twelve chapters each devoted to a different queen. It is printed in clear good-size type, and is fully illustrated, and there is an appendix giving useful references.

The Famous Frank Merriwell Stories. BURT L. STANDISH.

No modern series of tales for boys and youths has met with anything like the cordial reception and popularity accorded to the Frank Merriwell Stories. There must be a reason for this and there is. Frank Merriwell, as portrayed by the author, is a jolly, whole-souled, honest, courageous American lad, who appeals to the hearts of the boys. He has no bad habits, and his manliness inculcates the idea that it is not necessary for a boy to indulge in petty vices to be a hero. Frank Merriwell's example is a shining light for every ambitious lad to follow. Twenty-eight volumes now ready:

A WONDERFUL AND ATTRACTIVE NOVELTY FOR CHILDREN

Size when extended, 49 in. x 10 in.
Size when closed 12½ in. x 10 in.

Each Panorama is composed of a series of beautiful colour pictures forming the backgrounds of various delightful scenes. In a neat pocket at the back of the book are to be found a large number of cut-out models, beautifully coloured, these are for insertion into the slits arranged in the scenery for this purpose. The boys and girls can thus make innumerable interesting pictures for themselves, or they can follow out the idea of the story or description which is given in the book, in which case they will find for their guidance that the models are numbered and corresponding numbers are upon their respective slits in the scenery. The story or description in the book is illustrated with delightful drawings in black and white. Directions are given on each Panorama as to how to make up the scenes. The whole Panorama opens out and stands firmly and shuts up into a handsome book with a charming cover in full colour.

AMERICAN BOY'S WORKSHOP, THE. By Clarence B. Kelland. For every boy who succeeded in making something he wanted there are a hundred who failed—and they failed because they didn't know just how to go at it. If they had a hint or a few suggestions as to plan, or a drawing to follow, they would have built their fishpoles or boats or desks. And that is one of the reasons for publishing this book—to give the boy the help he must have to make what he needs.

Fully illustrated. Large 12mo, cloth, . net, $2 00

In the preparation of this book the editor has secured the best men to write the various departments. For instance, "Things for Boys to Make" has been prepared by John L. Dougheny, who edits the "For Boys to Make" column of The American Boy Magazine. The chapter on "Signalling" was written by Lieutenant W. S. Anderson of the United States Navy. The chapter on "Small Furbearers and How to Catch Them" was written by George J. Thiesen, a noted trapper and woodsman. The chapter on the Bow and Arrow is by A. Hyatt Verrill, and so on, making a complete handybook for boys, not by one man, but many men of wide experience, each writing about the subject he knows best.

AMERICAN BOYS' BOOK OF ELECTRICITY, THE. By Chas. H. Seaver. New Revised Edition, including a special chapter on Electricity in The World War. Illustrated with over 300 diagrams and half-tone illustrations. Large 12mo, cloth, wrapper printed in colors, net, 2 00

ROBIN HOOD. By Paul Creswick. Illustrated with plates in full color by N. C. Wyeth ..... net, 3 50

Mr. Wyeth has caught the spirit of this wonderful story that fairly reeks with the spirit of the out-of-doors, sunlight and wind, dark forests and shining meadows. The men that roam this countryside are flesh and blood, faces sun-tanned and roughened, their clothes coarse made and stained and fragrant of wood-smoke and scorched venison! One feels them to be capable of all the deeds, good and bad, attributed to them. We become identified with real people. We sense a contemporary quality in them.

JOAN OF ARC. Illustrated in full color by M. Boutet De Monvel.....net, 1 50

An artistic volume, appropriately illustrated in color. As the author says in the preface: "Open this book with reverence, my dear children, in honor of the humble peasant girl who is the Saint of her country, as she was its Martyr. Her history will teach you that in order to conquer, you must believe that you will conquer. Remember this in the day when your country shall have need of all your courage."

A CHILD'S GARDEN OF VERSES. By Robert Louis Stevenson. Twelve full-page illustrations in full color and numerous black and white illustrations by Millicent Sowerby.....net, 1 25

A beautiful edition of these old favorite verses, which continue to delight both young and old.

POEMS FOR LITTLE MEN AND WOMEN. Edited by Norma Bright Carson. Eight full-page illustrations in full color and numerous black and white illustrations by William Francis Taylor.....net, 1 25

An anthology of children's poems selected from the writings of Eugene Field, R. L. Stevenson, James Whitcomb Riley and others. This book contains many children's favorite poems, including "Wynken, Blynken and Nod," "Little Orphant Annie," and "The Boy Lives on Our Farm."

HORNIBROOK, ISABEL. Ann of Sea Crest High. Four illustrations and cover in full color. 12mo, cloth ..... net, $1 50

The story of Ann—whose Christian name in full is the more flowerlike Rosemary Ann—the child rescued in the strangest manner after the Halifax explosion of 1917, is full of mystery and interest from beginning to end.

——— "ROMEE ANN, SOPHOMORE." Four illustrations, cover in color. 12mo, cloth ..... net, 1 50

In cartoons and pictures of the four High School stages the fledgling, "Soph" is always depicted with wings. Romee Ann's conception of what these "wings" are and their bearing on her life is very charmingly told.

The story ranges from classroom and academic activities to the free outdoor life of week-end trip and camp, amid the most picturesque setting, and the incident is equally varied from humor to exciting stress, from the camouflaging of a mascot to the horrors of "live" sands.

The interest in dramatics, so widespread among the High Schools of to-day, which lent interest to the previous book, "Ann of Sea Crest High," is here continued; so is the blending together of different types and classes through the democracy of the American school.

Little Songs of Long Ago.
Our Old Nursery Rhymes.

Beautifully bound in cloth, colored inlay on cover, wrappers printed in color. Quarto, per volume . . . . . net, 3 00

Each volume contains the best known Rhymes with 30 full page color illustrations by Willebeek Le Mair, and the original tunes harmonized by A. Moffat.

Childhood's greatest classics, "The Old Nursery Rhymes," are issued in these two books together with the well-known original tunes. The great feature of the work, however, is the wonderful series of 60 full-page illustrations by that remarkable artist, H. Willebeek Le Mair, whose individuality displayed in the drawings puts her name in the front rank of those who have devoted their art to children's life.

LITTLE PEOPLE'S ANNUAL. Made for You by Father Tuck. Edited by Capt. Edric Vredenburg. Fourth year of publication. With thirty-seven color pictures. Charming designs in beautiful colors by Chloë Preston figure conspicuously in this captivating volume which is printed in large color type, rendering it a most acceptable present to the youngest members of the family. Lots of delightful pictures are provided by Hilda Cowham, Louis Wain, Ernest Aris, and many other artists who well know what the little people like, and amongst the writers are Gurney Slade, Norman Gale, G. F. Joy, Grace C. Floyd, and H. G. Swift. Songs and puzzles fill some of the pages, and every page brings fresh pleasure. Five full-page color plates and 32 pp. printed in two colors. 112 pp. letterpress. Pictorial Boards, Cloth Back . . . net, $1 50

LOYD, SAM. A Puzzle Book for Children. POLLARD, JOSEPHINE. The Bible and Its Story. By Josephine Pollard, author of "The History of the New Testament in Words of One Syllable," "History of the Old Testament," "Battles of America," etc. 12mo, cloth, ... 1 50

The book comprises 576 pages, size 6 x 8 inches. There are 280 illustrations (many of them full-page), of which a complete list is prefixed to the volume. Especial attention is called to the index, which occupies 22 double-column pages, and contains upward of 2000 analytical references to the text. The great fullness of this index will of itself render the volume invaluable to all who believe that a familiar knowledge of the incidents of the Bible cannot be acquired at too early an age.

This volume has been published to assist parents, guardians, and teachers in the religious instruction of those under their charge, by enabling them to place in the hands of children a book which would reverently tell the Biblical story without sectarian bias.

Mrs. Josephine Pollard, the well-known popular writer for children, has put some of her best work into this beautiful book. She has taken the Bible at the first chapter of Genesis and retold the wonderful story step by step to the last chapter of Revelation. It has been to the writer evidently a labor of love. She enlists the reader's interest at once, and holds it to the end. Children will find it as fascinating as a fairy book. It is simplicity itself; yet, with all its simplicity, it is not childish.

Sixteen volumes each, with twelve full-page plates in full color and numerous illustrations in black and white. Each volume in attractive Box. Quarto, cloth, $2.50 net.

THE HEROES, OR GREEK FAIRY TALES. By Charles Kingsley (Abridged). Illustrated by Howard Davie. The stories in this fascinating record of heroic deeds in Greek Mythology are so abridged that every little incident mentioned by Charles Kingsley is omitted and the whole of the stories run smoothly and with unabated interest and coherency. The numerous black and white and color drawings add very considerably to the charm of this popular classic.

TALES OF THE ALHAMBRA. By Washington Irving. Illustrated by Arthur A. Dixon and H. M. Brock. This notable volume consists of a selection, from Washington Irving's famous book, of those stories of most intense interest and undoubted suitability for the perusal of boys and girls, all admirably illustrated with a large number of drawings.

CHILDREN'S STORIES FROM THE ARABIAN NIGHTS. By Rose Yeatman Woolf. Illustrated by Harry G. Theaker. An admirable collection of the most popular tales carefully compiled so as to form an entirely delightful and charming volume.

CHILDREN'S STORIES FROM FRENCH FAIRY TALES. By Doris Ashley. Illustrated by Mabel Lucie Attwell. In dealing with these stories, the writer has shown consummate tact, and this, combined with the fascinating illustrations, has resulted in a lovely volume.

ANIMAL LEGENDS FROM MANY LANDS. Told by Rose Yeatman Woolf. Illustrated by Edwin Noble. Truly splendid stories illustrative of the cunning of the Fox, the greediness of the Wolf, the obstinacy of the Mule, and with other fancifully descriptive tales of the ways and doings of the inhabitants of the Animal Kingdom.

KING ARTHUR AND THE KNIGHTS OF THE ROUND TABLE. Written by Doris Ashley. Illustrated by Arthur A. Dixon. A particularly apt selection from the marvellous exploits of the Knights of the Round Table, related in thrilling language and illustrated in an ideal manner with pictures in color and black and white.

Raphael House Library

CHILDREN'S STORIES FROM DICKENS. Illustrated by Harold Copping. Told by his Grand-daughter, Mary Angela Dickens, and other writers, with an introduction by Percy Fitzgerald, the friend of, and eminent authority on, Charles Dickens.

MY BOOK OF FAVOURITE FAIRY TALES. Re-told by Capt. Edric Vredenburg and others, illustrated by Jennie Harbour. The well-known stories, "Cinderella," "Beauty and the Beast," "Red Riding Hood," etc., etc., sumptuously illustrated with Miss Jennie Harbour's exquisitely decorative and highly original designs.

ÆSOP'S FABLES. Illustrated by Edwin Noble. A magnificent edition of these world-famed Fables, a most desirable volume alike for young and old, and a handsome addition to any library.

CHILDREN'S STORIES FROM SHAKESPEARE. By E. Nesbit, and "When Shakespeare was a Boy," by Dr. F. J. Furnivall, M.A. A new edition with increased number of illustrations, full-page black and white drawings being an attractive feature. The Stories are told in an appropriate and charming manner. Illustrated by John H. Bacon, A.R.A., and others.

CHILDREN'S STORIES FROM SCOTT. By Doris Ashley. Illustrated by Harold C. Earnshaw. The histories of Sir Walter Scott's most popular characters condensed into short stories, and thus adapted as an interesting introduction to the Scott classics.

THE WATER-BABIES. By Chas. Kingsley. Illustrated by Mabel Lucie Attwell. The delightful adventure of the little chimney sweeper is reduced in length by omissions of some of the slightly prosy digressions, which abridgment in no way detracts from the completeness of the history and leaves its beauty intact.

"ALICE IN WONDERLAND." By Lewis Carroll. Illustrated by Mabel Lucie Attwell. Most characteristically illustrated, making an exceedingly beautiful Gift Book.

HANS ANDERSEN'S FAIRY TALES. Illustrated by Mabel Lucie Attwell. Dainty grace and quaint charm pervade this exquisite edition of the beloved fairy tales.

GRIMM'S FAIRY TALES. Illustrated by Mabel Lucie Attwell. New editions of these stories are ever acceptable, and here the artist has excelled herself, so admirably has she depicted the conceptions of the writers.

MOTHER GOOSE. Illustrated by Mabel Lucie Attwell. Edited by Captain Edric Vredenburg. A delightful edition of the ever-popular Nursery Rhymes re-arranged, with illustrations specially designed for this volume.

SAUNDERS, MARSHALL. Author of "Beautiful Joe."

JIMMY GOLDCOAST. The Story of a Monkey and His Friends. 12mo, cloth ..... net, $1 50

At last Marshall Saunders has given us another book. Not since "Beautiful Joe" has she herself felt so keenly the spirit of a book as in this latest and most appealing story of a family, told by their pet monkey.

Quite as prominent as "Jimmy Goldcoast" are Nonnie, the beloved darky servant, and Polly, her parrot. These three all play an important part in the rescue from waywardness of a certain young man, who finally becomes a great power for good.

Those who know Miss Saunders' many books, need no reminder of the indefinable charm and fascination of her stories. Insight, tenderness, and humor have never been combined in quite the manner of which she is capable. In the beginning, her books capture the reader, heart and mind, teaching him a hundred things he would otherwise never know, and going on to delight him with pictures so real that he feels certain he must have "passed this way before." That her stories are now read all over the world, literally by the millions, and in almost every language, should be a great gratification to all who have loved her work these many years.

STAPP, EMILIE B. The Go-Hawk Series. Only a few of us really know and understand children. Still fewer have the exquisite human talent of interpreting the childish heart. "Go-Hawks" goes into that small choice class that is about children and is for grown-ups too. Who will derive the more pleasure from these stories—the parents who read them aloud or the children who listen—will be hard to determine.

Each volume illustrated with ten full-page plates and numerous illustrations, handsomely bound in cloth and stamped in gold and colors.

VAN LOON, HENDRIK WILLEM, A. B., Ph. D. A Short History of Discovery from the Earliest Times to the Founding of the Colonies. Written and drawn and done in color. This book does not intend to give children all the facts about all the events of the earliest discoveries of Greenland, Iceland, and America. It merely says, "dear children, history is the most fascinating and entertaining and instructive of arts." It tells us of men of great courage and people who knew how to die for their convictions. It shows us how very difficult it is to achieve anything in this world and how we have to work for everything we want to accomplish. WARREN, CARRO FRANCES. Birdland Fairy Series

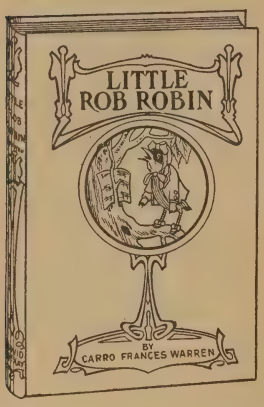
LITTLE ROB ROBIN



Every feathered songster that fills the woods with his music and cheerful twitter will be found in "The Birdland Fairy Series," which Miss Warren is bringing out to delight afresh her vast army of childish admirers.

In "Little Rob Robin" every chapter is a glimpse into a world of new delights. Such marvelous characters!—Rob and his sisters, Twitter and Fluffy, Dr. Wren and his amazing prescriptions for sick birds, talkative Miss Pecketty Pewee, funny Mrs. Wagtail, and a host of others equally amusing.

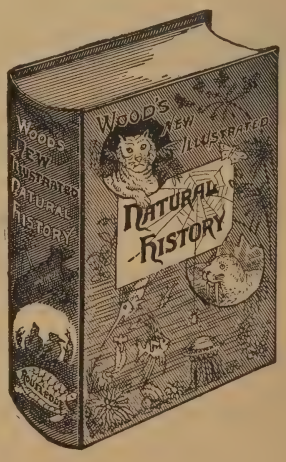
And Birdland is a place where such surprising things happen—the Woodpeckers' Surprise Party, for instance, the mishaps that befell disobedient little Rob, and many other astonishing and amusing things.

LITTLE CHICK CHICKADEE

What little reader can fail to find intense delight in "Little Chick Chickadee"? The visit to the Rabbit family—the clever ruse by which the birds gained admittance—the advent of such wholly charming characters as the Snowflake Sisters, the Nuthatch family, and the villain of the play, Mr. Cunning Crow—these are links in a chain of happenings that hold the reader spellbound by their very originality and freshness.

Each volume illustrated with eight full-page colored plates, artistically bound in cloth with colored inlay in cover. 12mo, gilt top, each . . . net, $1 00

WOOD, REV. J. G., M.A. New Illustrated Natural History. With many Hundred Illustrations from Designs by Wolf, Zwecker, Weir, Coleman, Harvey, and other Artists, engraved by the Brothers Dalziel. Stamped in Gold and Colors. Large 8vo, cloth, $4 00



Wood's "Natural History," with its charming descriptions and delightful anecdotes of all animals, both domestic and wild, is the greatest authority in the land. It gives, minutely and in the simplest language, the habits, haunts, diseases, and peculiarities of the entire animal kingdom. The descriptions of the animals are truthful and interesting. Their portraits, as shown in the hundreds of illustrations, are accurately drawn, and make us realize the variety and beauty of earth's creatures. The life and habits of animals, reptiles, birds, etc., are of equal interest to old and young.

THE RICCARDI PRESS BOOKS.

The Riccardi Press Books are printed in the fount specially designed by the late Mr. H. P. Horne for The Medici Society. It is now in use in two sizes, "14-point" and "11-point."

A special hand-made paper, with Riccardi water-mark, is employed throughout, except where otherwise stated.

The volumes are issued under four headings, and are with one exception published in two alternative styls of binding: boards, canvas back, paper label, and silk bookmark and limp vellum, gold lettering, silk ties. In some cases special editions printed on vellum are issued, such copies being bound in limp Kelmscott vellum. Omission of prices signifies that the volumes are out of print in the vellum edition. The Society is occasionally able to inform customers where these copies are to be obtained.

All editions are strictly limited and the type is distributed after the edition has been printed.

(I) ILLUSTRATED QUARTO SERIES—in "14-point" type—comprising illustrated editions of selected works of the highest literary quality.

(II) SCRIPTORUM CLASSICORUM BIBLIOTHECA RICCARDIANA—in "14-point type"—in a smaller quarto, printed throughout in blue and black.

(III) OCTAVO SERIES—in "14-point" or "11-point" type—consisting of selected works, whether reprints or now first published. Illustrations are in some cases reproduced from the original editions.

Turn to the East

By CAROLINE SINGER and C. LE ROY BALDRIDGE

IN his drawings and water-colors of the Far East, C. Le Roy Baldridge, the famous artist of the A. E. F., has attained new heights. They display the same aptness for portraiture that made his war pictures notable, now raised to a genuine mastery of characterization and enriched by a brilliant pictorial sense. Mr. Baldridge possesses a contagious enthusiasm for the Orient, where he has lived at two different periods, each time for about a year—long enough for the flavor and color of the East to sink deeply into his understanding. On his latest trip he was accompanied by his wife, Caroline Singer, a well-known contributor to magazines, who in this book gives a sympathetic interpretation of the rich and ancient civilization they came to know.

Turn to the East contains about two hundred drawings in aquatone and eight pages in nine color lithograph reproduction; the book is a splendid example of typographical style, from the press of William Edwin Rudge.

An edition de luxe, numbered and signed by author and artist, printed on special paper, and richly bound, contains an extra set of color illustrations and an original Japanese wood-cut in colors signed by Mr. Baldridge. This edition is limited to three hundred copies, of which two hundred and seventy-five are for sale.

Glass Houses

By ELEANOR GIZYCKA

COUNTESS GIZYCKA'S witty and audacious novel of Washington society, a "best seller" of the spring season, continues to have extraordinary success.

"Delightful and brilliant sketch of a highly cosmopolitan and sophisticated group."—Fanny Butcher in the Chicago Tribune.

"Glass Houses goes considerably beyond a merely satirical comedy of Washingtonian manners. Shot through and through with mischievous wit, the first portion of the book merely sets the stage for what, in the event, is a wise and clear-eyed human comedy."—New York Times. $2.00

Glitter

By KATHARINE BRUSH

"GLITTER is the best flapper and college story that has been written since This Side of Paradise."—Chicago Tribune.

"An entertaining novel of real and very appealing young people."
—The Independent

"Every chapter radiating the exuberance of youth."—Boston Herald.

Triumph

By JOHN WILEY

"BESIDES technical excellence, the book has real meaning, power and poise."—New York Herald-Tribune.

"The whole story is one of irony and failure skillfully handled and ingeniously planned . . . real vigor and distinctive color."
—Boston Transcript. $2.00

A Bush That Burned

By MARJORIE BARKLEY McCLURE

"AN American story grounded on a prevalent American problem, American principles and scenes; thoughtful, and full of tremendous power, the effects of which should be far-reaching."—Minneapolis Tribune.

"Tempts us sorely to the forbidden superlatives."—New York Sun.

"The inherent artistry, the essential interest of the story itself, and the air of good breeding that permeates every page save the book from being classed as mere temperance propaganda. Moreover, the author boasts a blessing denied to most propagandists—a sense of humor."—New York Times. $2.00

God of Might

By ELIAS TOBENKIN

"GOD OF MIGHT is important, not only because it is sincere and compact, but because it presents a protagonist new to fiction: the Hebrew in America with a Christian wife, and with a Christianized family circle which, together with his social and business Gentile associates, secretly regards him as an outsider. . . An honest and significant performance."
—Zona Gale in the International Book Review. $2.00

The Price of Wisdom

By MARJORIE BARKLEY McCLURE

THE story of Terry, a young professional dancer from a family old in traditions of the stage, whose career is cut off at its beginning by the romantic wooing of Nicolai Karanoff, a fabulously wealthy Russian, whom she marries. The happiness she enjoys for a few months is marred by Nicolai's impatience for an heir; her pride rebels, and the resulting breach between the two leads to many developments.

Mrs. McClure, as in her two preceding novels, "High Fires" and "A Bush That Burned," writes with mature and wise understanding of life and human motives, and with an appreciation of the problems of decent and cultivated Americans.

In Terry, Mrs. McClure's large public will find perhaps the most charming character she has created, and Terry's method of solving the situation that confronts her will cause earnest discussion for many a day.

Allegra: The Story of Byron and Miss Clairmont

By ARMISTEAD C. GORDON

THIS brief life of Byron is woven about the story of his love affair with Clare Clairmont and of their daughter Allegra. Mr. Gordon, who is a collateral descendant of the same Gight Gordons of whom Byron's mother was one, gives a new interpretation of Byron the man, without attempting a critical consideration of his work. It covers three periods of the poet's life: his early years in Scotland and England and the influences which shaped him; his sojourn in Italy, his association with Miss Clairmont, the Shelleys, and the Countess Guiccioli; and his friendship with Lady Blessington, the Greek enterprise, and his final courageous entrance into the campaign, followed so soon by his death.

The well-known author of "Maje" and "Ommirandy" writes in a popular vein; though every statement is sustained by authority and exhaustive research, the biography is as delightfully readable as a novel.

An Artist's Life in London and Paris, 1870-1925

By A. LUDOVICI

MR. LUDOVICI, the father of the novelist, has written this book of fascinating reminiscences of his artistic career, of bohemian life in Paris in the seventies as an art student, and of his later intimacy with Whistler. With him he assisted in the revival of the R. B. A. and in the founding of the International Society of Sculptors, Painters and Gravers, of which Whistler was the first president. We get many amusing—and new—stories of that great artist, whose personality, indeed, dominates the book. Illustrated.

The Linleys of Bath

By CLEMENTINA BLACK

THE Linleys of eighteenth century Bath were a famous family, which displayed in all its members an extraordinary quality of genius. Perhaps most famous of them all was the beautiful Elizabeth, the greatest singer of her time, who became, after a tempestuous love affair, the first wife of Richard Brinsley Sheridan. The first part of this brilliant study is devoted to their romance; the remaining chapters tell the scarcely less engrossing histories of her brothers and sisters. No book has ever treated more tellingly the glorious days of fashionable Bath. With eight illustrations and an introduction by George Saintsbury.

"Re-create for us, with liberal irony and not a little imagination, the actual flavor of classical times."—New York Times. Each, $2.50

My Son John

By E. B. DEWING

MY SON JOHN is more than a new novel. It is a new invention—a new way of writing fiction so that it appears to be fact. Some may say that it is a new way of writing fact so that it appears to be fiction. Take your choice. It is the truth about writers. The truth about genius. The truth about mothers. The truth about a genius in his relations with women. John Lord's taste in women was an incautious one. But then, he says, "Safety is that for which—for themselves—only cowards care." John Lord is many things—all things—but never a coward. He is bold as a viking and sensitive as an artist. He is the dominating character in this book which is a world of characters. New York, London, Chicago, the Western prairies and the high seas form a background against which living people love and strive and laugh and weep. A book which has something for every taste. A big book, native to the soil, racy of the land, touching life at many places. It deals with tragedy lightly and with comedy deeply. And it rushes on to an inevitable climax.

The Memoirs of Susan Sibbald

Edited, with an introduction, by FRANCIS PAGET HETT

MRS. SUSAN SIBBALD was born in 1783 and died in 1866. In her seventieth year she wrote an account of the first twenty-nine years of her life, vivacious reminiscences of a period of which we cannot know too much. In her middle age she went to Canada from her English home, and some interesting letters dealing with the Civil War in the United States and the Fenian invasion of Canada are included in this volume. Mr. Paget Hett, the editor, is the author's great-grandson. With 38 illustrations from prints and paintings.

"One might quote from every page of this delicious book."

Soldiers of the Plains

By P. E. BYRNE

IT is doubtful if there was ever anywhere a finer soldier than the American Indian; but he has lacked chroniclers who could convey to future generations a fair idea of the brilliant generalship, military efficiency, fortitude and individual gallantry that characterized many of his campaigns. Mr. Byrne, who lives in Bismarck, N. D., has attempted, on the basis of extensive research and a personal knowledge of the Indian which extends over many years, to give the Indian his due. To achieve this, it has been necessary to look into the causes of the Indian wars and to reveal the lamentable history of our relations with the red man, a sordid tale of treaty-breaking and bad faith.

This volume is of especial timely interest this year, which marks the fiftieth anniversary of the Custer disaster on the Little Big Horn. Custer's campaign is carefully described, and there are interesting and enlightening chapters on the wholly apocryphal story of "the revenge of Rain-in-the-Face," on the killing of that great warrior, Crazy Horse, and of the almost incredibly skillful retreat of Chief Joseph of the Nez Perces.

The First Forty-Niner

By JAMES A. B. SCHERER

"MR. SCHERER did well to limit his tale of the first forty-niner and the golden tea-caddy, for no one who picks it up will be able to put it down without reading it through."—The Saturday Review.

"A book that all San Franciscans will want to read. It is the story of Sam Brannan and his picturesque career, told with a wealth of detail. Half a dozen pictures of Old San Francisco and the diggins illustrate the book."

The Taming of the Frontier

Edited by DUNCAN AIKMAN

"IN these sketches of early days of frontier towns, now grown into standardized American cities as much alike and about as picturesque as Fords, writers who know their subject have set down the sort of history that means something, and yet the sort of history that never finds its way into the textbooks."—New York Evening Post. Illustrated $3.00

The Story of Man's Work

By WILLIAM R. HAYWARD and GERALD W. JOHNSON

"THIS is, strictly speaking, an outline of economic history, a sketch of the development of the industrial arts from their beginnings, and of the accompanying shifts in social organization, customs and thought. . . The work of simplifying and popularizing one of the most involved and in many respects the least spectacular aspects of history has been done so deftly that it would scarcely be too much to call it an epic of labor."—New York Times. Illustrated. $3.00

The Beloved Rajah

By A. E. R. CRAIG

INDIA, long familiar to readers through a host of novels, is revealed to us in a new light in this romantic story of a young rajah who combines the restraint and dignity of his British training with the beauty and mystery of his Eastern heritage. Mrs. Craig, whose father was long stationed in India, has had an opportunity, probably duplicated by no other English novelist, of observing intimately the life that goes on in a rajah's palace and of understanding the point of view of the native prince. Morno, the hero of her tale, is an inspired creation, a man who loses nothing of manliness in the poetic quality he displays only to Chalys Nairn, the lovely English girl who has influenced his life. Their story is one of haunting beauty, of tempestuous passion, and of insurmountable obstacles in the way of their love. And, as Mrs. Craig tells it, it is one of irresistible fascination.

Chimney Corner Fairy Tales

Selected and Edited by VERONICA SOMERVILLE HUTCHINSON
Illustrated by Lois Lenski

THE continuing success of CHIMNEY CORNER STORIES has led to the publication of this collection of fairy tales by the same editor and illustrator, for children a little older than the audience of the first book. Included are such old favorites as "Snowdrop and the Seven Little Dwarfs," "Briar-Rose," "Beauty and the Beast," and a selection of the best stories from many sources, among them "The Princess on the Glass Hill," "The Fisherman and His Wife," "The Lad Who Went to the North Wind," "Tom Tit Tot," and "Billy Beg and His Bull." Each one is carefully chosen with a view to pleasing children who will in this book be introduced to the magic of the fairy story.

Lois Lenski's illustrations are full of imagination and fantasy, yet each one is calculated to delight the child mind with recognizable details. Her illustrations display a rare combination of gay humor and romantic imagery. With many drawings in black and white and six full page illustrations in color. Size, quarto.

Publication on September 24th $2.50

Chimney Corner Stories

THE need has long been felt for a collection of the best stories for little children, which would confine itself to stories of proven quality and would omit all those beyond the understanding and interest of the smallest readers. Miss Hutchinson has had wide experience with children, in libraries and in story telling, and her selections are made with children under six in mind, as a first step beyond Mother Goose. The volume includes sixteen short tales, among them "Henny Penny," "The Three Pigs," "The Three Bears," "Peter Rabbit," "Mr. and Mrs. Vinegar," "The Travels of a Fox," and "The Three Billy Goats Gruff."

With over one hundred black and white illustrations and six in colors. $2.50

A Life of Christ—for Young People

By HAROLD B. HUNTING

TO Mr. Hunting, the most illuminating approach to Jesus' life is the fact that He gave to His followers a new clue for the discovery of God; He led them to find God in man—in all wholesome and loving human relationships. The story in this book is not chiefly a chronological succession of journeys, healings, and sermons, but a narrative of the major human relationships into which Jesus poured the richness of His life.

Oliver Twist

By CHARLES DICKENS
Illustrations by Donald Teague

OLIVER TWIST, Dickens's greatest book for young readers and a favorite with every lover of Dickens, has long required a fine illustrated edition to do it justice. Donald Teague, who painted the pictures for THE PILOT for the same series, has illustrated brilliantly this new addition to the Minton, Balch library of illustrated classics. He has felt deeply the extraordinary opportunity that the book gives to the artist, in the characters of Fagin and the Artful Dodger, Bill Sykes and Nancy, and Oliver himself. Even to the most slavish admirer of Cruickshank as the one Dickens illustrator, Mr. Teague's interpretation of the characters, in his broad and sweeping style, will compel admiration. He has immersed himself in the spirit of the period and has produced a quality of illustrative work that challenges comparison with that of any artist now before the public.

No Dickens character is more genuinely appealing than Oliver Twist, and no characters more engrossingly interesting than Bill Sykes and Fagin and the Artful Dodger. If there be young readers to whom Dickens is still an unknown quantity, there could be no better introduction to that mine of entertainment than this attractive presentation of the immortal Oliver. The perfect gift book of the season.

Snowshoe Al's Bed Time Storries

By ALBERT J. BROMLEY

THESE broadly humorous "bed time storries for grownup guys," appeared first in the daily column of the Chicago Tribune, "A Line o' Type or Two," and in book form jumped to an immediate success. First published by the editor of the column, Mr. Richard Henry Little, the book has now been taken over by Minton, Balch & Company. The volume, as the author freely admits, is "illustraited by tha saim hombre." $1.50

FINE ILLUSTRATED BOOKS

Old Decorative Maps and Charts

By ARTHUR L. HUMPHREYS

The collecting of old maps and charts—more particularly those of the 16th and 17th centuries—has become an enthusiastic pursuit of collectors, particularly in America, where the rising prices at auction sales testify to their eagerness to acquire specimens of the work of the old cartographers. This volume contains a large number of reproductions in color and monochrome of select examples in which the decorative features—ships of the early navigators, fabulous monsters of the deep, and curiously beautiful old cartouches—are of special interest. The examples have been chosen from the Macpherson Collection, which contains what is believed to be the finest assemblage of old atlases, maps, and charts now held in private hands. The introduction by Arthur L. Humphreys gives authoritative information concerning these old maps and their values. Uniform with Sailing Ship Models, Sailing Ships of War, Old Ship Figure-Heads, and The Golden Age of Sail.

The Mulberry Bush

By SYLVIA LYND

"A BOOK of beautifully wrought chapters from life which, in the absence of a better term, must be called sketches. They are that rarest of all things, feminine essays, for they are not variations upon a theme which a man might have written, but the plays of a woman's wit, imagination, and tenderness. . . Mrs. Lynd is a woman of feeling; only out of a fine sensitiveness could she write as she does, but hers is emotion sharpened by intelligence and lit by laughter that is never harsh or mocking, but at once tender and sophisticated; it is the light in eyes that look out upon the world brightly, unclouded by doubts that are insincerities."—Ernest Boyd in The Independent. $2.50

Captain Salvation

By FREDERICK WILLIAM WALLACE

CAPTAIN SALVATION is a magnificent tale, as stinging and as vigorous as the chafe of brine. Through it all, through the adventures of the rugged hard-living sailormen, and the story of Anson Campbell's defiance of the world, is always felt the power of the sea, compelling, mysterious, beautiful, brutal—and ever alluring. $2.00

The High Road to Honor

By JULIA SCOTT VROOMAN

THE clever wife of a brilliant young senator is the center of this timely picture of Washington today. Politics and social life in the capital provide the background for a story of high purpose and human sacrifice. $2.00

Nomad

By PAUL JORDAN SMITH

"AN engaging and amusing blend of satire, romance, black magic, and a few other chance ingredients. . . Solidly grounded in the American scene. . . Mordant satire upon the present state of civilization. . . Warmed and colored with poetic imagination and high fantasy."—Herschell Brickell in the New York Evening Post. $2.50

Quotation Puzzles

By BETTY VAN AARSDAEL

QUOTATION puzzles have long been popular with experienced puzzlers, who have known them as Numerical Enigmas. This volume, equipped with pencil and eraser, contains fifty fascinating puzzles. $1.25

The Come-Back

By M. D. C. CRAWFORD

A stirring tale of the prize ring and the Maine woods, on which the popular motion picture, "The Knockout," is based.
"An exciting tale, full of surprising incidents. . . . A new view of a prize fighter and of prize fighting."—Boston Transcript. $2.00

The Crooked Mile

By BERNARD DE VOTO

"A truthful, mature, sophisticated, and beautiful novel. . . . The story sweeps along at a reckless pace, with sparkling dialogue and drama and shining beauty in its pages."—Gene Markey in the Chicago Sunday Tribune. $2.00

Jacqueline And Four Other Stories from the French

By HENRI DUVERNOIS, PIERRE MILLE, J. JOSEPH-RENAUD, ANDRE WARNOD, and MAURICE LEVEL

"After reading this collection of stories, one realizes why the French nation gives continued and enthusiastic support to the Grand Guignol. . . . Marked by such quiet artistry and such consummate skill of diction that one is anæsthetized by the wizardry of words."—Providence Sunday Journal. $2.00

Middle Years

By V. R. EMANUEL

An interesting and discerning picture of a middle-aged man who tries to relieve the tedium of matrimony and suburban life. "A powerful and well-written study."—New York Times. $2.00

We Three

By OLGA and ESTRID OTT

"A dual play of emotions beautifully executed. . . . In every detail measures up to the standard of the 'truly greats'."—Springfield Union. $2.00

The Finger-Post

By MRS. HENRY DUDENEY

A realistic study of character, set in the Sussex Weald. $2.00

For Love of a Sinner

By ROBERT GORDON ANDERSON

Fifteenth century France, with François Villon as hero. $2.00

Legs Parsons

By FERDINAND BERTHOUD

A novel of up-country Africa, of adventure, love and ambition—a slice of life in the raw. $2.00

Half leather, 19.00. Carriage additional.
N. B.—"Canonical Marriage Register" is required with this edition.

Index Volumes

Owing to the size and weight of Editions B and C, the index is bound separately. Strong buckram binding.

Index for Edition B, including parish name in gilt, 68 pages, 3.00. Carriage additional.

Index for Edition C, including parish name in gilt, 100 pages, 4.00. Carriage additional.

Special Registers.

Registers will be made to order with different distribution of contents for any parish at a cost of 3.00 more than the standard volume of approximately same size.

THE CANONICAL MARRIAGE REGISTER

Prepared in accordance with the present canon. As the Marriage Register must frequently be carried to the place of marriage, it is more convenient to have it separate from the Parish Register, for which purpose the Marriage entries are included only in the two smaller sizes of the Canonical Parish Register. This Marriage Register is therefore required in connection with Editions B and C of the former.

Edition AA

Page 8 x 10 inches (half the standard size). Total pages 212, with space for 200 entries and index pages.

Half leather, 7.00. Carriage additional.

[N. B.—Marriage Register AA matches Parish Register AA in size, but is not required for that edition. It is made in this form (half the standard size of page) for those who prefer a small, and therefore light weight, book for use with the larger Parish Registers; but the average ratio of entries will necessitate two or three volumes of this edition during the probable lifetime of Parish Register B.]

Edition B

Page 16 x 10 inches, matching Parish Registers B and C. Total pages 218 with space for 400 entries and index pages.

Half leather, 12.00. Carriage additional.

REGISTERS OF FAMILIES

REGISTER OF FAMILIES
In Card Form

Appreciating the fact that the Register of Families requires constant change in entries, we have prepared such a Register in card index form. The cards are 4 x 6 inches, arranged to be filed in standard Card Trays, which can generally be purchased locally. The Open Tray No. 129 and the Covered Tray No. 172 (listed below) will accommodate from 800 to 1,000 of these cards.

Family Card (White)

Ruled for full information as to Family-parishioners.

Individual Card (Buff)

Ruled for full information as to individual parishioners whose families are not connected with the parish.

Sunday School Family Card (Salmon)

Ruled for information as to pupils in Sunday School and their families where the latter are not otherwise connected with the parish.

Price per hundred, 1.50. Carriage additional.

Guide Cards ("Joggers")

A set of twelve cards for division of the foregoing cards in the Tray into separate classifications as follows:

Families of Parishioners.

Individuals.

Sunday School Families.

New Arrivals: not actually received into the Parish.

Out of Town: but still connected with the Parish.

Disappeared: and Untraced.

Transferred: to other Parishes.

Individuals Deceased.

Lapsed: No longer in active attendance.

Removed without Transfer: and not definitely established elsewhere.

Excommunicated.

Miscellaneous.

Price per set of twelve, .20. Carriage additional.

Card Trays (Oak)

We recommend that these be purchased locally where possible, thus saving cost of transportation.

No. 129. Open Tray, 2.00.

No. 172. Covered Tray, 2.75.

[Both these are 9 inches long.] Carriage additional.

THE LIVING CHURCH

No intelligent, thinking Churchman or Churchwoman should be without a Church paper representing not a local part but the whole national Church. One owes it to himself and to the Church to be constantly in touch with the news and the thought of the Church.

THE LIVING CHURCH is an intelligent power in the Church. With correspondents in every diocese, at home and abroad, it is able to present the Church's news in condensed, readable form week by week.

It had many correspondents in Europe, in camps, and at the battle front during the war. It led practically the whole American religious press in relief funds.

It has special papers on special subjects of interest to Churchmen. Neither sectional nor partisan, it seeks to represent the largest, the Catholic thought of the Church.

The late CHAPLAIN DANKER, who received the Croix de Guerre and was killed in action in France, wrote, shortly before his death: "THE LIVING CHURCH has been a great comfort to me."

Weekly, Subscription price $4.00 per year. To the Clergy, $3.50.

303 Fifth Avenue
New York

We offer only a few books for our first season, acting on the policy that careful selection means better books and better books mean greater satisfaction to the reader and to the bookseller. In the following pages we have endeavored to describe as accurately as possible what the books are and to indicate the types of readers who would be interested in them.

New publications are indicated by an asterisk (*).

Books recommended by the American Library Association are indicated by a dagger (†).

All prices are subject to change without notice.

BOOTH, CHARLES G.

*SINISTER HOUSE. A mystery story of Southern California, with excellent plot and lifelike characters. It begins with the arrival of good looking, young Gail Hollister at the estate of Colonel Conniston. She has come to catalogue his collection of emeralds, valued at $300,000 and is somewhat disturbed by a hold-up en route, especially since she recognizes the man. Next morning the Colonel is found murdered and the jewels gone. After an exciting chase the real criminal is trapped and the mystery solved in a highly ingenious manner. Cloth, 12 mo. $2.00

HUGHES, RUPERT

*GEORGE WASHINGTON, The Human Being and The Hero. A fine biography of the great American, based on extensive historical research. Many myths are discarded and phases of Washington's evolution, heretofore neglected, are discussed in the light of recent discoveries which have led to a clearer understanding of the revolutionary period. The author covers the life of Washington down to the War of the Revolution. Illustrated with portraits and facsimiles of documents.
Cloth, 8 mo. About $3.50

MILLAY, KATHLEEN

*WAYFARER. A novel of Greenwich Village and a Maine farm, of the development of a fine, sensitive girl in these two unlike surroundings. Martha, gay and full of life, marries John, a reserved New Englander. The working out of this marriage and the final outcome are done with sincerity and power.
Cloth, 12 mo. $2.00

MORROW, HONORE WILLSIE

*ON TO OREGON! The story of a boy pioneer in the year following the events of the author's "We Must March." John Sager, thirteen years old, after the death of his parents on the journey from Missouri toward Oregon, continues with a younger brother and five sisters and completes the trip. With youthful daring the children overcome obstacles that would daunt their elders. Kit Carson figures prominently in this swiftly moving tale of pioneer adventure. With four illustrations by Will Crawford.
Cloth, 12 mo. $1.75

†THE EXILE OF THE LARIAT. This novel resembles the author's well-loved "Still Jim" in its portrayal of Western Life and big achievement. But it reminds one also of "The Enchanted Canyon" in the political drama unfolded in the career of Hugh Stewart, scientist, seeker of prehistoric records, led by fate and by capable Western women into a contest that brings him right up against elemental life and stark human needs. A Western novel with exciting action and worth-while ideas.
Cloth, 12 mo. $2.00

†THE FORBIDDEN TRAIL. Out of print. Cheap edition published by A. L. Burt Co., New York.

JUDITH OF THE GODLESS VALLEY. A splendid novel of the West. "A story of rodeo and round-up, of wild riding and fierce passions, of mountain grandeur and clean winds —and always a story of youth's struggle to find the secret of happiness. . . Human challenging, honest. . . ."—Boston Herald.
Cloth, 12 mo. $2.00

†THE ENCHANTED CANYON. A novel of the Grand Canyon and of national politics. "Never has the author displayed her power as a novelist more unquestionably. . . . We have here the ideal combination—nature finding its appeal to us through the characters of men and women, and the men and women remolded because of this response to the grandeur of nature."—Boston Transcript.
Cloth, 12 mo. $2.00

†STILL JIM. A novel of the Arizona deserts and the U. S. Reclamation Service. "A good, clean love story, full of American idealism. . . . Fit for the hands of any American boy or girl; worth the while of any man or woman." —N. Y. Evening Post. Cloth, 12 mo. $2.00

THE HEART OF THE DESERT. The story of a delicate girl kidnapped by a masterful Indian. The fight and pursuit are full of action, but the great theme is the mystery and healing power of primitive life in the vast silent places of the western desert.
Cloth, 12 mo. $2.00

THE LOST SPEECH of Abraham Lincoln. Lincoln lovers—and romance lovers—will relish this moving, beautiful love story in which Mr. Lincoln plays an important part. The romance is based on the incidents surrounding Lincoln's famous "Lost Speech," which out in Illinois in 1856 accomplished the seemingly impossible feat of welding quarreling factions into a unified Republican Party. Boards, 12 mo. $1.00

†BENEFITS FORGOT. A Story of Lincoln and Mother Love. A true story of a young Army surgeon, for whose education his mother had made great sacrifices. How President Lincoln learns of the young man's neglect of his mother and brings him to realize his ingratitude, makes a deeply touching story.
Cloth, 16 mo. $1.00

LYDIA OF THE PINES. Out of print. Cheap edition published by A. L. Burt Co., New York.

SWEATMAN, CONSTANCE TRAVERS

*YOUNG FOLK, OLD FOLK. A novel of the younger set in St. Paul, which might be true of twenty American cities. It differs from some modern novels in that it does not deal with lurid or sordid episodes, but depicts the young folk with humor and kindliness and the old folk as real and charming people, much puzzled by the exploits of their children.
Cloth, 12 mo. $2.00

George Washington

The Human Being and the Hero

By RUPERT HUGHES

The first important modern biography of the Father of his Country by an author who combines real historical knowledge with a masterly gift for story telling. George Washington has become a legendary figure in American history. In this book he is portrayed as the great and vivid personality—the aristocrat, the statesman, the gallant gentleman—that his contemporaries knew. The youth of Washington, which has been passed over by his biographers, is here presented with rare sympathy and understanding. The student of history and of character will gain a keener insight into the mind and heart of our notable ancestor and a better comprehension of the leader who guided America at a critical time and established firm and effective government for the young republic.

A valuable historical document and a great story.

Handsomely bound in blue, gold and buff. Over 400 pages, 5⅞ x 8⅞. Striking jacket in 2 colors. Illustrated with photographs and facsimiles of documents. Cloth, 8 mo. About $3.50.

On to Oregon!

The Story of a Boy Pioneer

By HONORÉ WILLSIE MORROW

A fine, stirring tale, founded on history, of the boy pioneer, John Sager. With extraordinary courage and audacity he led his young brother and sisters along the trail of the Snake River from Missouri to Oregon. The crude means of transportation delayed the children and the Indians and coyotes stole their food supply, but the famous scout, Kit Carson, was their staunch friend in time of need. Their wits, their inventive faculties and their natural buoyancy were taxed to the utmost. Only John's determination and self-reliant leadership pulled them through. Mrs. Morrow conveys vividly the larky spirits of the children and lifts the whole journey into a gorgeous adventure, as well as a milestone in pioneer achievement.

256 pages. Jacket in 3 colors. Four illustrations by Will Crawford. Cloth, 12 mo. $1.75.

NEW FICTION

Wayfarer

A Novel of Greenwich Village and a Maine Farm

By KATHLEEN MILLAY

A striking first novel and a brilliant character study by the younger sister of the distinguished poet, Edna St. Vincent Millay.

The action shifts from the carefree, artistic Bohemians of Greenwich Village to a remote, lonely farm in Maine. Martha, responsive to the exciting human contacts of New York, but tired of its falsities, marries and is at first happy in the beautiful countryside of her new home. But the grinding work, monotony and social narrowness of the farming community dull her spirit and even her real love for her husband, who understands and sympathizes, but is powerless to alter conditions. Martha works out her problem with courage and intelligence.

352 pages. Cloth, 12 mo. $2.00.

Young Folk, Old Folk

A Novel of the Younger Set

By CONSTANCE TRAVERS SWEATMAN

A gay and witty story of modern American youth. The lovely Max and her kid sister, Jerry, their escapades and adventures, are delightfully described by a new writer of unusual ability and charm. Decidedly these are not sad young women. Mrs. Sweatman observes them and their attractive, bewildered parents with refreshing humor and a keen but kindly eye. The community and society are characteristic of our American life.

320 pages. Effective silhouette jacket. Cloth, 12 mo. $2.00.

Sinister House

A Mystery Story of Southern California

By CHARLES G. BOOTH

For those who like the little extra in a mystery story: good writing, human characters and a plot that never runs down. Gail Hollister, red-headed young expert in gems comes to Colonel Conniston's beautiful estate in Southern California to catalogue his famous emeralds. On the way, the car is held up by a young man, whom the startled Gail recognizes as an old friend. The next morning the Colonel is found murdered and the gems stolen. After many false clues have been eliminated the mystery is solved in a satisfactory manner.

320 pages. Jacket in 3 colors. Cloth, 12 mo. $2.00.

REV. SAMUEL W. PURVIS, D. D.
PASTOR
THIRTEENTH STREET M. E. CHURCH
PHILADELPHIA

AN APPROPRIATE GIFT BOOK

These sermons were orginally published in the Evening Bulletin of Philadelphia each Saturday under the title "The Saturday Sermon." They were written for busy people in every walk of life. Their practical purpose has been to send a note of courage, inspiration, and good cheer to those bowed under the weight and weariness of life's journey. They are written by a pastor who knows mankind, one who presides over an unusually busy church in the heart of a great city.

BEAUTIFUL BIBLE STORIES

By Charlotte M. Yonge

This volume of illuminated Bible Stories contains 156 narratives, three for each Sunday in the year, and takes the reader from Genesis to Revelation, the subjects being selected in order throughout both the Old and New Testaments. Nearly every page has a picture illustrating the topic, and each Story is followed with a series of questions to be answered by the reader from the knowledge gained by studying the text. This is a very pleasing and instructive method, as well as being plain and easily understood. The plan of the book is practical in its arrangement for impressing upon minds the Bible truths as related in story form. The book contains 400 large pages and is illustrated with over 200 magnificent pictures.

Bound in Cloth $1.60

THE PILGRIM'S PROGRESS

Bound in brown silk finished cloth $1.75

LIFE OF CHRIST FOR LITTLE FOLKS

By Josephine Pollard, authoress of "Young Folks' Bible," "The Bible and Its Story," etc.

This book fulfils its purpose, which is to bring the wonderful story of the life of our Saviour, simplified and explained, to the minds and hearts of mothers and children. The aim of the authoress, to make religion attractive to the little folks, has been most beautifully accomplished. The story of the Christ child, in simple language, impresses the Christ-like spirit upon the young minds in their formative period. The book narrates His boyhood days and the child is drawn to Christ. The story is given in simple and easily understood language, being printed from large type and in one syllable. Illustrated with 200 striking pictures, which illuminate the text, it contains over 450 large pages.

Cloth Binding, gilt and ink cover design ... $1.60

No Better Companion for the Home and Sunday School than

The American Standard Bible

The Most Accurate Version of the Bible that has ever been produced

75 per cent. of all the Denominational Sunday School Periodicals in the United States have adopted it and use it exclusively as follows:

The Congregationalists, Baptists, Lutherans, Reformed Board, Friends, Methodists, United Brethren, Episcopalians, Evangelical, Disciples, Standard Publishing Company, Christian Publishing Association, Presbyterian (Graded Lessons), Christian Church.

It has been adopted by all the leading Colleges, Seminaries, Y. M. C. A.'s, Y. W. C. A.'s, and Bible Schools in the United States.

Over 13,000,000 Sunday School Scholars study their lessons every week from the AMERICAN STANDARD BIBLE— Why ?

Made in 10 sizes of type
Over 250 styles of binding

"The best Version of the Scriptures ever produced."

"The standard translation of the Bible for the English-speaking world."

The following pages contain a complete list of all styles

Easiest to Understand—Because it gives in plain English the exact thought and meaning of the inspired men who first wrote the Bible in Hebrew and Greek.

The Most Accurate—Because it is translated from the oldest and most complete authentic copies of the original Sacred Scriptures.

Every Bible in Use To-day is a translation and revision because there was no modern language when the Divine message was given to man.

The Paragraph Division is used by the American Revision Committee in the American Standard Bible and is an indisputable merit because it is true to the original and brings the reader closer to the message of the inspired writers.

The following circulars will be supplied for Free Distribution:

1. The Wonderful Story of How the Bible Came Down Through the Ages. An artistic booklet of 32 Pages and Cover.
2. The Story of Our Bible. An Interesting 32 page Booklet on the Origin of the Bible.

ing, 5 Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith Jehovah, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years. 6 And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria; and I will defend this city. 7 And this shall be the sign unto thee from Jehovah, that Jehovah will do this thing that he hath spoken: 8 behold, I will cause the shadow on the steps, which is gone down on the [1]dial of Ahaz [2]with the sun, to return backward ten steps. So the sun returned ten steps [3]on the dial whereon it was gone down.

9 The writing of Hezekiah king of Judah, when he had been sick, and was recovered of his sickness.

10 I said, In the [4]noontide of my days I shall go into the gates of Sheol:
I am deprived of the residue of my years.
11 I said, I shall not see [5]Jehovah, even [5]Jehovah in the land of the living:
I shall behold man no more [6]with the inhabitants of the world.
12 My dwelling is removed, and is carried away from me as a shepherd's tent:
I have rolled up, like a weaver, my life; he will cut me off from the [7]loom:
[10]Wherefore recover thou me, and make me to live.
17 Behold, it was for my peace that I had great bitterness:
But [11]thou hast in love to my soul delivered it from the pit of [12]corruption;
For thou hast cast all my sins behind thy back.
18 For Sheol cannot praise thee, death cannot celebrate thee:
They that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.
19 The living, the living, he shall praise thee, as I do this day:
The father to the children shall make known thy truth.
20 Jehovah is ready to save me:
Therefore we will sing my songs with stringed instruments
All the days of our life in the house of Jehovah.
21 Now Isaiah had said, Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it for a plaster upon the boil, and he shall recover. 22 Hezekiah also had said, What is the sign that I shall go up to the house of Jehovah?

39 At that time Merodach-baladan the son of Baladan, king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Hezekiah; for he heard that he had been sick, and was recovered. 2 And Hezekiah was glad of them, and showed them the house of his [13]precious things, the silver, and the gold,

9 Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great, and the land is full of blood, and the city full of [1]wresting of judgment: for they say, Jehovah hath forsaken the land, and Jehovah seeth not. 10 And as for me also, mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will bring their way upon their head. 11 And, behold, the man clothed in linen, who had the inkbim the form of a man's hand under their wings.

9 And I looked, and behold, four wheels beside the cherubim, one wheel beside one cherub, and another wheel beside another cherub; and the appearance of the wheels was like unto a [4]beryl stone. 10 And as for their appearance, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been [5]within a wheel. 11 When they went, they went [6]in their four ŏn, who stood in the way, as they came forth from Phā'raōh: 21 and they said unto them, Jĕ-hō'văh look upon you, and judge; because ye have made our savor to be abhorred in the eyes of Phā'raōh, and in the eyes of his servants, to put a sword in their hand to slay us.

22 And Mō'sĕs returned unto Jĕ-hō'văh, and said, Lord, wherefore hast thou dealt ill with this people? why is it that thou hast sent me? 23 For since I came to Phā'raōh to speak in thy name, he hath dealt ill with this people; neither hast thou delivered thy

6 people at all. 1 And Jĕ-hō'văh said unto Mō'sĕs, Now shalt thou see what I will do to Phā'raōh: for by a strong hand shall he let them go, and by a strong hand shall he drive them out of his land.

2 And God spake unto Mō'sĕs, and said unto him, I am Jĕ-hō'văh: 3 and I appeared unto Abraham, unto Ī'săac, and unto Jacob, as [1]God Almighty; but [2]by my name Jĕ-hō'văh I was not [3]known to them. 4 And I have also established my covenant with them, to give them the land of Cā'năan, the land of their sojournings, wherein they sojourned. 5 And moreover I have heard the groaning of the children of Ĭs'rā-ĕl, whom the Ē-gўp'tiăns keep in bondage; and I have remembered my covenant. 6 Wherefore say unto the children of Ĭs'rā-ĕl, I am Jĕ-hō'văh, and I will bring you out from under the burdens of the Ē-gўp'tiăns, and I will rid you out of their bondage, and I will redeem you with an outstretched arm, and with great judgments: 7 and I will take you to me for a people, and I will be to you a God; and ye shall know that I am Jĕ-hō'văh your God, who bringeth you out from under the burdens of the Ē-gўp'tiăns. 8 And I will bring you in unto the land which I [4]sware to give to Abraham, to Ī'săac, and to Jacob; and I will give it you for a heritage: I am Jĕ-hō'văh. 9 And Mō'sĕs spake so unto the children of Ĭs'rā-ĕl: but they hearkened not unto Mō'sĕs for [5]anguish of spirit, and for cruel bondage.

10 And Jĕ-hō'văh spake unto Mō'sĕs, saying, 11 Go in, speak unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt, that he let the children of Ĭs'rā-ĕl go out of his land. 12 And Mō'sĕs spake before Jĕ-hō'văh, saying, Behold, the children of Ĭs'rā-ĕl have not hearkened unto me; how then shall Phā'raōh hear me, who am of uncircumcised lips? 13 And Jĕ-hō'văh spake unto Mō'sĕs and unto Aâr'ŏn, and gave them a charge unto the children of Ĭs'rā-ĕl, and unto Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt, to bring the children of Ĭs'rā-ĕl out of the land of Ē'gўpt.

BIBLE FOR MINISTERS' NOTES

LONG PRIMER 4to (as above). Printed on Fine White Paper.

Size, 6½ x 8¾ inches.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office
That Little Bar and Nut Has Solved the Problem!

We have many calls from ministers for a Bible in which they can make notes. A wide margin on a Bible makes a large book and does not give enough room for notes. On the other hand, interleaving a Bible more than doubles its thickness, and puts in leaves where they are not wanted. We have applied our Loose-Leaf Encyclopaedia Binder to a Bible, which will enable the Minister to put in a sermon, or his notes, whenever required all through the Bible. Nelson's Patent Loose-Leaf Binder makes the volume look just like any other Bible, and is so simple that anyone can insert, change or remove a page or pages in a moment. Additional blank pages can be secured at any time at nominal cost.

NELSON TEACHERS' BIBLE

IS THE COMPLETE BIBLE, CONTAINING OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS, WITH FULL REFERENCES, AND THE LATEST AND BEST HELPS FOR SUNDAY-SCHOOL TEACHERS, AS DESCRIBED BELOW

Concise Bible Dictionary

Is a marked advance in Teachers' Helps. It is arranged in alphabetical order, being based on the Illustrated Bible Treasury, written by leading scholars in America and Great Britain, each one a recognized authority on the subject on which he writes. The Concise Bible Dictionary supplies in the most condensed and convenient form all the latest information about the Bible, its writers, its language, the various Versions, complete Chronology, Life of Christ, with Harmony of the Gospels, Life and Travels of St. Paul, etc.

CHEMOSH [kē'mŏsh], the god of the Moabites. [See MOABITE STONE.]

CHERUB [chĕr'ŭb] (plural CHERUBIM), a symbolical winged creature with a human face, associated in Scripture with the throne or chariot of Jehovah (Ps. 18. 10; 80. 1; 99. 1). In Gen. 3. 24 cherubim appear as the guardians of the approach to the tree of life. Two cherubim were placed on the mercy-seat or covering of the ark of the covenant in the Tabernacle and in the Temple, and figures representing cherubim were wrought into the hangings of the Holy of Holies. In Ezekiel's description (ch. 1 and 10; 41. 18, 19) they have a human body, with a head presenting the faces of a man, a lion, an ox, and an eagle, four hands, and four wings; the whole body of the cherubim and the wheels of the chariot being furnished with innumerable eyes. In Revelation the four faces of the cherubim are distributed among the four "living creatures" that surround the throne of God. [See GOSPELS.]

(e. g. Num. 24. 24).

CHRIST [chrīst] JESUS [jē'sus]. [See LIFE OF JESUS, pages 53–67; His Life and Works, see Concordance, under CHRIST; His Names, Titles, and Offices, see Concordance, under JESUS.]

CHRONICLES [chrŏn'i-cles], THE FIRST AND SECOND BOOKS OF THE, are in the third part of the Jewish Canon, where they form one book, named "Words (or "Acts") of Days," i. e. minutes of events, lists of names, and the like. In the LXX. they are divided into two books, entitled Paraleipomĕna, "things omitted" or "passed over." Their Latin title from the time of Jerome has been Chronica, "Chronicles." The priestly tone of the writer, and his preoccupation with the fortunes of the house of David and the kingdom of Judah, are marked features of the work, which runs parallel to the older history (Books of Samuel and Kings), and is mainly drawn from the same sources.

Illustrations

Were specially made for this work, being reproduced from recent photographs truly illustrating the articles where they appear.

Combined Concordance or Word-Finder

Combines Complete Concordance, Subject Index, Scripture Proper Names, Obsolete and Ambiguous words in one A-B-C list. Names, Titles and offices of Christ, by Professor Ira M. Price, Ph.D., Chicago. Life and work of Christ from Scripture Texts. Incidents in the Old Testament referred to in the New Testament. Passages quoted or paraphrased in the New Testament from the Old. Over 10,000 references are given, showing all the principal changes of the Revised Version side by side with the passages according to the King James Version.

32 And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were sick, and them that were [1] possessed with demons. 33 And all the city was gathered together at the door. 34 And he healed many that were sick with divers diseases, and cast out many demons; and he suffered not the demons to speak, because they knew him[2].
35 And in the morning, a great while before day, he rose up and went out, and departed into a desert place, and there prayed. 36 And Sī'mŏn and they that were with him followed after him; 37 and they found him, and say unto him, All are seeking thee. 38 And he saith unto them, Let us go elsewhere into the next towns, that I may preach there also; for to this end came I forth. 39 And he went into their synagogues throughout all Gā'lĭ-lēe, preaching and casting out demons.
40 And there cometh to him a leper, beseeching him, [3] and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. 41 And being moved with compassion, he stretched forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou made clean. 42 And straightway the leprosy departed from him, and he was made clean. 43 And he [4] strictly charged him, and straightway sent him out, 44 and saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go show thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing the things which Mō'sĕs [5] commanded, for a testimony unto them. 45 But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to spread abroad the [6] matter, insomuch that [7] Jē'sŭs could no more openly enter into [8] a city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

MATTHEW 4. 13 Jesus retires to Galilee. Jesus calls the Four that John was delivered up, he withdrew into Gal'i-lee; 13 and leaving Naz'a-reth, he came and dwelt in Ca-per'na-um, which is by the sea, in the borders of Zeb'u-lun and Naph'ta-li: 14 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through I-sa'iah the prophet, saying,

15 [1] The land of Zeb'u-lun and the land of Naph'ta-li,
[2] Toward the sea, beyond the Jor'dan,
Gal'i-lee of the [3]Gen'tiles,
16 The people that sat in darkness
Saw a great light,
And to them that sat in the region and shadow of death,
To them did light spring up.

17 From that time began Je'sus to preach, and to say, Repent ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 And walking by the sea of Gal'i-lee, he saw two brethren, Si'mon who is called Pe'ter, and An'drew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers. 19 And he saith unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you fishers of men. 20 And they straightway left the nets, and followed him. 21 And going on from thence he saw two other brethren, [4]James the son of Zeb'e-dee, and John his brother, in the boat with Zeb'e-dee their father, mending their nets; and he called them. 22 And they straightway left the boat and their father, and followed him.

23 And [5]Je'sus went about in all Gal'i-lee, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the [6]gospel of the kingdom, and healing all manner of disease and all manner of sickness among the people. 24 And the report of him went forth into all Syr'i-a: and they brought unto him all that were sick, holden with divers diseases and torments, [7]possessed with demons, and epileptic, and palsied; and he healed them. 25 And there followed him great multitudes from Gal'i-lee and De-cap'o-lis and Je-ru'sa-lem and Ju-dæ'a and from beyond the Jor'dan.

5 And seeing the multitudes, he went up into the mountain: and when he had sat down, his disciples came unto him: 2 and he opened his mouth and taught them, saying,

3 Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

12 Now when he heard that John was delivered up, he withdrew into Gal'i-lee; 13 and leaving Naz'a-reth, he came and dwelt in Ca-per'na-um, which is by the sea, in the borders of Zob-u-lun and Naph'ta-li: 14 that it might be fulfilled which was spoken through I-sa'iah the prophet, saying, h Is. ix. 1, 2. i Gr. The way of the sea. k Gr. nations: and so elsewhere.

12. Was delivered up. See ch. 14.3–5. Withdrew into Galilee. Jesus left Judæa most probably on account of the hatred of the Pharisees and began his ministry in Galilee. It is not known how long his Judæan ministry lasted. A few authorities say about a month, but most of them eight months. His way led ye; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 And walking by the sea of Gal'i-lee, he saw two brethren, Si'mon who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea; for they were fishers. 19 And he saith unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you fishers of men.

l Or, Jacob m Some ancient authorities read he.

phrase as spoken by our Lord has its deepest spiritual meaning from his own life and teaching. Its use in the Old Testament and by John the Baptist is merged in its final and personal application by Jesus to the individual: 'The kingdom of heaven is within you.'

A NEW NELSON EDITION of the King James Version of THE BIBLE

A Page from this Bible

13 And Ā'brā-hăm lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold behind him a ram caught in a thicket by his horns: and Ā'brā-hăm went and took the ram, and offered him up for a burnt offering in the stead of his son.

14 And Ā'brā-hăm called the name of that place Jē-hō'vah-jī'reh: as it is said to this day, In the mount of the LORD it shall be seen.

15 ¶ And the angel of the LORD called unto Ā'brā-hăm out of heaven the second time.

16 And said, By myself have I sworn, saith the LORD, for because thou hast done this thing, and hast not withheld thy son, thine only son:

17 That in blessing I will bless thee, and in multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the stars of the heaven, and as the sand which is upon the sea shore; and thy seed shall possess the gate of his enemies;

18 And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed; because thou hast obeyed my voice.

19 So Ā'brā-hăm returned unto his young men, and they rose up and went together to Bē'er-shē'bā; and Ā'brā-hăm dwelt at Bē'er-shē'bā.

20 ¶ And it came to pass after these things, that it was told Ā'brā-hăm, saying, Behold, Mĭl'cah, she hath also born children unto thy brother Nā'hôr;

21 Hūz his firstborn, and Būz his brother, and Kē-mū'el the father of Ā'ram,

22 And Chē'sed, and Hā'zō, and Pĭl'dăsh, and Jĭd'laph, and Bĕth-u'el.

23 And Bĕth-u'el begat Rē-bĕk'ah: these eight Mĭl'cah did bear to Nā'hôr, Ā'brā-hăm's brother.

24 And his concubine, whose name was Reu'mah, she bare also Tē'bah, and Gā'hăm, and Thā'hăsh, and Mā'a-chah.

23 CHAPTER 23

AND Sā'rah was an hundred and seven and twenty years old: these were the years of the life of Sā'rah.

2 And Sā'rah died in Kĭr'jath-ăr'bā; the same is Hē'bron in the land of Cā'năan: and Ā'brā-hăm came to mourn for Sā'rah and to weep for her.

3 ¶ And Ā'brā-hăm stood up from before his dead, and spake unto the sons of Hĕth, saying,

4 I am a stranger and a sojourner with you: give me a possession of a buryingplace with you, that I may bury my dead out of my sight.

5 And the children of Hĕth answered Ā'brā-hăm, saying unto him,

6 Hear us, my lord: thou art a mighty prince among us: in the choice of our sepulchres bury thy dead; none of us shall withhold from thee his sepulchre, but that thou mayest bury thy dead.

7 And Ā'brā-hăm stood up, and bowed himself to the people of the land, even to the children of Hĕth.

8 And he communed with them, saying, If it be your mind that I should bury my dead out of my sight; hear me, and intreat for me to Ē'phron the son of Zō'hăr,

9 That he may give me the cave of Măch-pē'lah, which he hath, which is in the end of his field; for as much money as it is worth he shall give it me for a possession of a buryingplace amongst you.

10 And Ē'phron dwelt among the children of Hĕth: and Ē'phron the Hĭt'tite answered Ā'brā-hăm in the audience of the children of Hĕth, even of all that went in at the gate of his city, saying,

11 Nay, my lord, hear me: the field give I thee, and the cave that is therein, I give it thee; in the presence of the sons of my people give I it thee: bury thy dead.

12 And Ā'brā-hăm bowed down himself before the people of the land.

13 And he spake unto Ē'phron in the audience of the people of the land, saying, But if thou wilt give it, I pray thee, hear me: I will give thee money for the field; take it of me, and I will bury my dead there.

14 And Ē'phron answered Ā'brā-hăm, saying unto him,

15 My lord, hearken unto me: the land is worth four hundred shekels of silver; what is that betwixt me and thee? bury therefore thy dead.

16 And Ā'brā-hăm hearkened unto Ē'phron; and Ā'brā-hăm weighed to Ē'phron the silver, which he had named in the audience of the sons of Hĕth, four hundred shekels of silver, current money with the merchant.

17 ¶ And the field of Ē'phron, which was in Măch-pē'lah, which was before Mām're, the field, and the cave which was therein, and all the trees that were in the field, that were in all the borders round about, were made sure.

18 Unto Ā'brā-hăm for a possession in the presence of the children of Hĕth, before all that went in at the gate of his city.

19 And after this, Ā'brā-hăm buried Sā'rah his wife in the cave of the field of Măch-pē'lah before Mām're: the same is Hē'bron in the land of Cā'năan.

20 And the field, and the cave that is after the messengers of Dā'vid and became his wife.

43 Dā'vid also took A-hĭn'o-ăm of Jĕz'-re-el; and they were also both of them his wives.

44 But Saul had given Mī'chal his daughter, Dā'vid's wife, to Phăl'tī the son of Lā'ish, which was of Găl'lim.

262 CHAPTER 26.

AND the Zĭph'ites came unto Saul to Gĭb'e-ah, saying, Doth not Dā'vid hide himself in the hill of Hăch'i-lah, which is before Jĕsh'i-mŏn?

2 Then Saul arose, and went down to the wilderness of Zĭph, having three thousand chosen men of Is'ra-el with him, to seek Dā'vid in the wilderness of Zĭph.

thou not, Ab'ner? Then Ab'ner answered and said, Who art thou that criest to the king?

15 And Dā'vid said to Ab'ner, Art not thou a valiant man? and who is like to thee in Is'ra-el? wherefore then hast thou not kept thy lord the king? for there came one of the people in to destroy the king thy lord.

16 This thing is not good that thou hast done. As the LORD liveth, ye are worthy to die, because ye have not kept your master, the LORD'S anointed. And now see where the king's spear is, and the cruse of water that was at his bolster.

17 And Saul knew Dā'vid's voice, and said, Is this thy voice, my son Dā'vid? And Dā'vid said, It is my voice, my lord, O king.
